2018 BASEBALL Media Guide

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA CREDENTIALS
Credentials are required for access to the press box for all University of Alabama home baseball games. All credential requests must be made at least 24 hours in advance, to Alex Thompson in the Alabama Athletics Communications Office. Credentials may be picked up at the Will Call window (located at Gate 3, adjacent to Bryant Drive and behind home plate) 90 minutes prior to first pitch. Lot D behind the scoreboard in left field and next to the Law School parking lot is the designated lot for media parking. Media are welcome to park anywhere around The Joe on regular game days but are encouraged to use Lot D when baseball games overlap with other campus events.

INTERVIEWS
Alabama head coach Brad Bohannon and student-athletes are available for interviews in person or, with prior arrangement, by telephone. Alabama practices will be at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. Practices are open to members of the media on selected days, with Bohannon and student-athletes available prior to the start of practice, depending upon class schedules, travel or other plans. Media wishing to attend practice or arrange an interview with a student-athlete should contact Alex Thompson in the Alabama Athletics Communications Office 48 hours in advance. On game days, only postgame interviews are allowed.

GAME SERVICES
Complete team and individual statistics (box score), quotes and a running play-by-play are provided to the media who cover the Crimson Tide at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. Copies of stats, game notes, media guides and roster sheets are available in the press box. Postgame interviews with Alabama head coach Brad Bohannon and Alabama student-athletes will take place in the media room located on the first base side following a 10-minute cooling off period upon the conclusion of the games. Ample ethernet outlets and wireless internet access is available inside the pressbox and field level media room for media to write and file their story.

RADIO BROADCASTS
Visiting teams wishing to broadcast games from Sewell-Thomas Stadium are provided access to one phone line. The calls are charged to the visiting radio network. Should an additional line be required, broadcasters must arrange their own hookup through The University of Alabama Telecommunications Office at (205) 348-6300. Visiting radio broadcasters must call in advance or have their media relations office notify Alabama that they will be broadcasting the game and will require credentials.

INTERNET
Information about University of Alabama Athletics can be found on the internet at RollTide.com. Information on the site includes rosters, schedules, results, stats, box scores and biographical information. In addition, members of the media can access helpful information on covering the Tide. From the website, Tide fans also can find a link to listen to Alabama games live via the internet and follow home game action via live stats. Wireless internet is available throughout Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

SOCIAL MEDIA
News, video and features on the Alabama baseball team also can be found on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram by searching for AlabamaBSB.

UA VIDEO FEEDS/TELEVISION
The University of Alabama, through the Crimson Tide Sports Network (CTSN), offers an FTP site that provides up-to-date interviews with coaches and athletes, taped video highlights and narrated tape packages from September through May. On occasion, the baseball team is featured in this package. Please call the Athletics Communications Office for more details at 205-348-6084. During the spring, the baseball team's progress will be covered on "Crimson Tide This Week," a 30-minute weekly regional sports show.

SEC VIDEO FEEDS/TELEVISION
Links to download footage for broadcast television use only will be emailed when footage is made available. Throughout the season, video features on the baseball team will be made available on RollTide.com. For questions, please contact Christopher England by e-mail at cengland@ia.ua.edu.

RADIO NETWORK
Alabama baseball can be heard on the radio by tuning into one of the 30-plus stations state-wide that are part of the Crimson Tide Sports Network (CTSN). Chris Stewart will provide play-by-play for his 19th straight season with Lee Tracey providing the color commentary for all Tide baseball games in 2018.

ATHLETICS COMMUNICATIONS OFFICE

ALABAMA PRESIDENT DR. STUART R. BELL

Dr. Stuart R. Bell became the 29th president of The University of Alabama in July 2015, bringing with him 30 years of experience in higher education. He had previously served at the Capstone for 16 years as a faculty member and department head of mechanical engineering. During this time, he also founded and directed an interdisciplinary research center, the Center for Advanced Vehicle Technologies, which continues to thrive today.

Since his return to the Capstone, Dr. Bell has led the University to develop a strategic plan that maps out the aspirations of the campus for the next five years and beyond. Renewing UA's commitment to its students and the campus community, and with a focus on significantly increasing investments in faculty and research, the plan promises to improve the quality of life for citizens across our state, nation and world. Already, several of the plan's initiatives are underway, with multiple research institutes formed on campus, creating an interdisciplinary approach to address national and worldwide challenges in the areas of water, transportation and lifespan research.

Prior to returning to UA as president, Dr. Bell was executive vice president and provost at Louisiana State University. Before his time at LSU, he served the University of Kansas as dean of the School of Engineering. Under his leadership, both institutions opened new facilities and saw great success in student recruitment and retention.

An Abilene, Texas, native, Dr. Bell earned a nuclear engineering degree from Texas A&M University in 1979. He earned his master's degree and doctorate in mechanical engineering from the same university in 1981 and 1986, respectively.

It was also at Texas A&M that he met and fell in love with his wife, Susan. They have three adult children, Stuart, Stacy and Stephen, and they are the proud grandparents to one granddaughter.

NOT ALL LEGENDS WEAR EYE BLACK

The University of Alabama knows a thing or two about legends.

Legends have been made in our academic halls, on our athletic fields and courts, and through our endeavors to shape a better world through our teaching, research and service.

UA legends earn prestigious honors, such as Pulitzer Prizes, Emmy Awards, Heisman Trophies, Medals of Honor and Lifetime Achievement Awards. They wear names like inventor, entrepreneur, best-selling author, pioneer, CEO, founder and national champion.

Here are just a few of our legends:

Best-selling authors: Harper Lee, "To Kill a Mockingbird"; Winston Groom, "Forrest Gump"; Kathryn Stockett, "The Help"; Mark Childress, "Crazy in Alabama" and T.S. Stribling, "The Store."

CEO/Chairman of the Board/President: Marillyn Hewson, Lockheed Martin; W.W. Clements, Dr. Pepper Company; Sam DiPiazza, PricewaterhouseCoopers; Thom Rainer, Lifeway Christian Resources; Vicki Hollub, Occidental Petroleum.

Pioneers and Founders: Millard Fuller, Habitat for Humanity; Jimmy Wales, Wikipedia; Joe Gibbs, The Golf Channel; John Hendricks, The Discovery Channel; Janet Gurwitch, Laura Mercier cosmetics; Morris Dees, Southern Poverty Law Center.

Science: Dr. Edward O. Wilson, biologist, researcher and two-time Pulitzer Prize winning author; Robert Jemison Van de Graaff, scientist and inventor.

Film and Television: Chuck Gordon, producer of "Die Hard" movies and "Field of Dreams"; Sela Ward, television and film actress; Joe Scarborough, talk show host; Jim Nabors, actor; Tom Cherones, director of "Seinfeld."

It matters where you go to college. The University of Alabama is the fastest growing flagship in the country because of our commitment to excellence and the success of our graduates. For the last 10 years, UA has ranked No. 1 in the country in the number of Goldwater Scholars, with Harvard University in the second spot. We also rank in the top three nationally for National Merit Scholars.

Learn more about how you can become a legend at gobama.ua.edu. You can also visit ua.edu/legends to read about more legends from The University of Alabama.

- Enrollment at The University of Alabama reached a record high of 37,665 for fall 2016. The entering freshman class, at 7,559 students, was the largest and most qualified in UA history. More than 3,000 freshmen (40 percent of the freshman class) scored 30 or higher on the ACT, placing them in the top 5 percent of students taking the ACT.
- The University of Alabama is a leader among public universities nationwide in the enrollment of National Merit Scholars, with more than 500 currently enrolled.
- Ranked among the top 50 public universities in the nation in U.S. News and World Report's annual college rankings for more than a decade, UA ranked 46th among public universities in the 2016 rankings. UA's latest college rankings include:
    - o The School of Law is ranked 26th among all law schools in the nation (9th among public universities), spring 2017.
    - o The School of Library and Information Studies is ranked 28th nationally in the latest rankings for library schools, spring 2017.
- University of Alabama students continue to win prestigious national awards. Fifty-one UA students have been named Goldwater Scholars, including four in 2017. The University of Alabama has produced a total of 15 Rhodes Scholars, 16 Truman Scholars, 32 Hollings Scholars and 11 Boren Scholars.
- Thirty UA faculty have received National Science Foundation CAREER Awards, the nation's most prestigious recognition of top-performing young scientists, in disciplines ranging from nanoscience and engineering to biological sciences.
- Dr. Yang-Ki Hong, a professor of electrical and computer engineering, leads UA research to help electric vehicles become more efficient, cheaper and to rely on more sustainable materials. The National Science Foundation selected UA and three other universities in 2017 to team with government agencies and private companies to pursue technological advancements with automobiles.
- Fourteen University of Alabama graduates have accepted Fulbright awards to study and teach abroad during 2017-2018.
- U.S. News and World Report ranks The University of Alabama's Manderson Online Business Master's programs 14th in the nation, up from 75th the previous year. The rankings are based on level of accreditation, faculty credentials, admissions selectivity, reputation for excellence among peer institutions, and academic and career support services offered to students.
- Public Accounting Report's 2016 rankings place UA's Culverhouse School of Accountancy's undergraduate and master's programs eighth in the nation and the doctoral program ninth.
- PRWeek Magazine has recognized the public relations program in The University of Alabama's College of Communication and Information Sciences as one of the top five programs in the nation seven times.

GREG BYRNE
DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

One of the most acclaimed and respected administrators in collegiate athletics, Greg Byrne was formally introduced as The University of Alabama's Director of Athletics on January 19, 2017, and officially began his tenure leading the department on March 1.

Byrne's role at Alabama is his third venture at the helm of a major collegiate athletics program. Prior to coming to Alabama, Byrne was Vice President for Athletics at the University of Arizona from 2010-17 and was Director of Athletics at Mississippi State University from 2008-10. With more than 20 years of experience as an athletics administrator, Byrne has fashioned an impressive administrative career hallmarked by consistent success in fundraising, innovative strategies and competitive success with a strong emphasis on academic excellence.

Throughout his career, Byrne has been consistently more impactful and successful with each step up the administrative ladder. As a fundraiser, he has been directly involved in raising more than $200 million in gifts during his career. As a leader of competitive athletics programs, he has fostered major improvements across the spectrum of sports at both programs he has led. A proponent of developing student-athletes into productive people after college, Byrne has led programs that have attained academic success at levels not reached prior to his tenure.

He also has deep experience working in the Southeastern Conference (SEC), having spent 2002 to 2005 at the University of Kentucky as Associate Athletics Director for Development and Fundraising before a four-year stint at Mississippi State (2006-10). From 2006-08, Byrne served as Associate Athletics Director for External Affairs at MSU before becoming Director of Athletics.

Under Byrne's leadership, Arizona Athletics underwent more than $140 million in construction and renovation of athletics facilities. That work was highlighted by the $72 million Lowell-Stevens Football Facility, the addition of two video boards in Arizona Stadium (football), and a new scoreboard in the McKale Center (basketball). Additionally, Byrne oversaw a $30 million renovation of the McKale Center, a project that included upgraded locker rooms, seating, restrooms, concessions, enhanced lighting and a new playing floor.

At Mississippi State, where he was the youngest athletics director in the SEC and the youngest to lead an athletic program at the NCAA Division I-A level, Byrne oversaw the hiring of head football coach Dan Mullen and former head baseball coach and current Director of Athletics John Cohen.

As the son of veteran athletics administrator Bill Byrne, one of the nation's most prominent college sports administrators with 30 years of experience as an Athletics Director, Greg Byrne has been around the enterprise of running successful athletic programs for most of his life.

A native of Pocatello, Idaho, Byrne earned his bachelor's degree from Arizona State University in 1994 and his master's degree from Mississippi State University in 2009. Byrne is married to the former Regina Misa of Junction City, Ore., and the couple has two sons, Nick and Davis.

Dr. Jeff Laubenthal (left) and Emeel Salem (right) won the H. Boyd McWhorter Southeastern Conference Male Scholar Athlete of the Year Award and a $10,000 post-graduate scholarship. It is the highest academic honor presented by the SEC office. Laubenthal also earned the 2014 Paul W. Bryant Alumni-Athlete Award for his accomplishments since leaving the University, which includes earning his medical degree from UAB and then becoming a specialist in sports and family medicine at the West Alabama Family Practice Center in Tuscaloosa.

Alabama baseball has produced nine CoSIDA Academic All-Americans since 1972, including first-team honorees Jeff Laubenthal (1993), Lance Cormier (right) (2002) and Emeel Salem (2006 & 2007).

The Crimson Tide has produced 13 CoSIDA Academic All-District IV selections since 1993, including two-time honorees Lance Cormier (2001 & 2002), Beau Hearod (left) (2002 & 2003) and Emeel Salem (2006 & 2007).

Emeel Salem is the most decorated student in Alabama baseball history, receiving more than $25,000 in post-graduate scholarships. In addition to the SEC Male Scholar Athlete of the Year Award, Salem received the 2007 Lowe's Senior CLASS Award and was a two-time SEC Baseball Scholar Athlete of the Year (2006 & 2007).

SEWELL-THOMAS STADIUM

Sewell-Thomas Stadium, also known as "The Joe," has been home to Alabama baseball since 1948. The Crimson Tide opened the original Joe in 1948, playing a doubleheader against the Bradley Braves. In 2016, "The New Joe" and a new era of Alabama baseball began at Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 2016
OPENING NIGHT AT THE NEW JOE

Sewell-Thomas Stadium was a hit with fans during its inaugural season in 2016, selling out nine times and welcoming 6,000-plus fans on six separate occasions.

Sewell-Thomas Stadium, located slightly off Paul W. Bryant Drive in the Alabama Athletics Complex, has played host to six NCAA Regionals, six SEC playoff series and a pair of exhibition games with the New York Yankees in 1978 and 1984. The Crimson Tide used its home-field advantage to secure a berth in the College World Series in 1996, 1997 and 1999, winning 13 straight postseason home games in one of the most dominant runs in Crimson Tide baseball history.

Alabama has compiled a 1,234-558-2 (.690) all-time record at Sewell-Thomas Stadium since its move to the current site in 1948. The Tide returned home in 2016 after spending the previous season in Hoover while the stadium underwent a complete renovation. Crimson Tide fans flooded to the new stadium in its inaugural season with 133,720 total fans coming through the gates for 31 home matchups. The Tide averaged over 4,000 fans for the first time since 2009 and sold out on nine different occasions.

Over the last 21 years, Alabama has owned a significant advantage at home, winning 76 of its 103 SEC series. Since 1995, Alabama has won 40 of 55 home series against SEC Eastern Division teams.

A series loss to No. 3 Florida at the end of the 2010 season snapped a 14-series win streak versus Eastern Division schools that dated back to 2005. After going 1-2 in series against SEC Western Division opponents in 2013, Alabama has won 28 of 43 home series, including 14 of its past 20 against the West. Alabama enters the 2016 season having won 34 of its past 45 SEC home series inside Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

In 2009, Alabama earned a home series win over top-ranked Georgia, adding to the Tide's success at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The Crimson Tide has won seven of its eight series against the nation's top-ranked team since 1985, with four of those series wins coming in Tuscaloosa. Alabama owns home series wins over Miami (Fla.) (1985), LSU (2007), Mississippi State (2006) and Georgia (2009) when those teams were ranked No. 1 in the country.

The Tide baseball team has been a success at the gate as well, drawing over three million fans since the first stadium expansion in 1991. Over the past 26 years, Alabama has attracted 3,027,473 fans in 836 all-time openings in Tuscaloosa. The Tide ranked second nationally in attendance from 1999-2002 and set a school record with 211,331 fans during the 2000 season, when every home game was sold out.

Frank Thomas Field opened on March 26, 1948, as a 2,000-seat facility that attracted many overflow crowds in the 1950s and 1960s under Coach Tilden "Happy" Campbell and Coach Joe Sewell. The inaugural game was played on March 26, 1948, with the Crimson Tide beating the Bradley Braves 5-2 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Pitcher Clarence Flack delivered the first pitch at 2:02 p.m., on that afternoon in the Tide's new baseball home. Dick Dill recorded the first hit at Thomas Field and Jack Rutledge swatted the first home run. Flack was the winning pitcher that afternoon for the Tide. Marvin Blemker also pitched and earned what is known today as a save.

Since the inaugural game in 1948, Sewell-Thomas Stadium has seen plenty of changes. The stadium was renamed Sewell-Thomas Field in 1978, honoring former Alabama football and baseball standout and Major League Hall of Famer Joe Sewell. Alabama played the first night game in school history on March 14, 1981, with a 13-8 victory over Western Kentucky.

The ballpark underwent three major renovations prior to 2015, including changes in 1991, 1999 and 2001.

The original grandstand was completed in time for the 1991 season and was completed by Wesley Construction of Talladega, Ala.

N.C. Morgan Construction of Tuscaloosa was responsible for a $4-million expansion project, which was completed prior to the 2001 season, involved extending the grandstand down the right field line.

The players and coaches likewise benefited from the 2001 renovations. The Crimson Tide moved into its spacious clubhouse in 2001. The expansion also included three indoor batting cages and pitching machines, a meeting room, training room, equipment room and coaches offices.

The renovation and rebuilding to construct what is now known as "The New Joe" began in the fall of 2014 and lasted until January of 2016, completing a $42.5 million project originally envisioned by the late Mal Moore. The project saved only the cement foundation, while a complete overhaul was made to the rest of the facility. Along with the stadium, a state-of-the-art indoor hitting facility was added along the left field line to allow for practice both in the cages and on the mound year-round.

Alabama's new home returned the right field terrace for fans, while adding chairbacks around the entire lower bowl. On the upper concourse, suites along with the .525 Club hosts Alabama baseball fans. The .525 Club, similar to the Zone at Bryant-Denny Stadium, was built in honor of the most decorated player in Crimson Tide baseball history, David Magadan. Magadan was Alabama's only Golden Spikes Award winner, which is the premiere award given to college baseball's top player. In that 1983 season, Magadan batted .525, an NCAA record that still stands today.

Along with fan amenities, players are now treated to a new lounge, team meeting room and locker room.

The new Sewell-Thomas Stadium has cemented itself as one of the premiere baseball facilities not only in the Southeastern Conference, but across all of college baseball. The University of Alabama's rich athletic tradition began with baseball, and a renovated Sewell-Thomas Stadium has once again elevate the program to the forefront of athletics at the Capstone.

HEAD COACH BRAD BOHANNON

BRAD BOHANNON

Head Coach — First Year

BERRY COLLEGE, 1998

Brad Bohannon, the 2015 American Baseball Coaches Association and Baseball America National Assistant Coach of the Year, was named head baseball coach at The University of Alabama by Director of Athletics Greg Byrne on Thursday, June 1, 2017. Bohannon, who became the 32nd head coach in Crimson Tide baseball history, was formally introduced at a press conference on Monday, June 5, 2017.

"I am excited to announce that we have reached an agreement with Brad Bohannon to be our new head baseball coach at The University of Alabama," said Byrne. "As we began the search and studied our successful rosters from the past regional and College World Series teams, it became apparent that we needed our head coach to be very strong in recruiting in the state Alabama, the Southeast and then completing the roster with national recruits. The vision that Brad shared for Alabama baseball matched that recruiting philosophy and coupled it with a great coaching pedigree and a commitment to the student-athlete, both as a baseball player and as a well-rounded student. We are confident that he will be able to lead our program to championship levels, which we all value here at Alabama."

Bohannon brings 14 years of Southeastern Conference coaching experience to Alabama after having served as an assistant at Kentucky from 2004-15 and, most recently, Auburn from 2016-17. Regarded as one of the best recruiters in the nation, he was responsible for signing 13 Wildcat student-athletes that went on to play in the Major Leagues, including 2014 Golden Spikes Award winner A.J. Reed, while his first recruiting class at Auburn was ranked No. 9 by Collegiate Baseball and included six 2017 starters.

"This is the opportunity of a lifetime, and I cannot wait to get started," said Bohannon. "My goal is to make The University of Alabama the best baseball experience in the country. We're going to recruit at the highest level, coach and develop our student-athletes and create a positive team culture that ultimately will help us to be successful. Every aspect of our program will play an important part, and Alabama has incredible resources to help us reach our goals. I truly believe we can accomplish anything here."

Bohannon played a pivotal role in turning around both Kentucky and Auburn within three years on the job. The Wildcats became the first team in SEC history to go from worst to first in only one season, winning 44 games and the program's first league title in 2006, while the Tigers won 12 more games in 2017 than in 2016 and advanced to the NCAA tournament. In addition to improving in the win column, the 2017 squad set the school record for fielding percentage at .975.

While at Kentucky, Bohannon served under two SEC Coach of Year honorees in John Cohen and Gary Henderson. Along with winning the school's only league title, Bohannon was a part of a trio of record-breaking win seasons, capped off by the 2012 team that won 45 games to set the program mark.

A combined 69 Wildcat student-athletes were chosen in the Major League Baseball draft or signed as a free agent during Bohannon's tenure as recruiting coordinator. He had nine recruits selected in the 2012 draft, which set a new Kentucky record and was second-most in the NCAA.

One of Bohannon's most notable recruits was the aforementioned Reed, who was tabbed as the consensus national player of the year in 2014. The 2012 freshman All-American continued to improve each year under Bohannon's watch and went on to lead the NCAA in home runs and slugging percentage as a junior, while leading the SEC in wins by a pitcher.

Since 2008, all of Bohannon's recruiting classes have been ranked in the top 25 with the 2008 class coming in at No. 4, the 2009 class at No. 6, the 2010 class at No. 16, the 2011 class at No. 25, the 2012 class at No. 11, the 2013 class at No. 25, the 2014 class at No. 16 and both the 2015 and 2016 classes coming in at No. 9. He has signed recruits from 25 different states and Canada, three of which have gone on to be first round picks in the MLB draft.

Prior to his stint at Kentucky, Bohannon worked for two seasons at Wake Forest as an assistant on George Greer's staff. In his two seasons in Winston-Salem, the Demon Deacons advanced to the NCAA tournament twice and captured the Atlantic Coast Conference title in 2001.

In addition to his collegiate coaching experience, Bohannon also spent the summer of 2005 managing the Southern Ohio Copperheads of the Great Lakes Summer Collegiate League.

Bohannon earned an undergraduate degree in finance in 1998 from Berry College in Georgia. He then went on to earn a master's degree in business administration from Wake Forest in 2002. Bohannon began his collegiate career playing at Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech before finishing up at Berry.

A native of Rome, Ga., Bohannon is married to the former Kim Traylor.

2018 COACHING STAFF

JASON JACKSON

FLORIDA STATE, 2000

One of the top pitching coaches and recruiters in the assistant coaching ranks of college baseball, Jason Jackson was officially hired to serve as the Crimson Tide's pitching coach on Tuesday, June 13, 2017. Jackson was the second addition to Brad Bohannon's Crimson Tide staff and came to Tuscaloosa after spending 16 years as an assistant, including the previous nine as the pitching coach at Florida Atlantic University.

"I am really excited to add Jason to my coaching staff," said Bohannon. "As I worked through putting this staff together, I made dozens of phone calls and his name kept coming up. I was looking for a coach who has an outstanding track record of developing pitchers, someone who has proven that they can evaluate and recruit at an extremely high level, and a person of high character and integrity who connects well with young people. Once I got Jason on campus and spent time with him, I knew he was the perfect fit for what Alabama baseball needs at this point in time."

Jackson has built a reputation as one of the top recruiters in the Southeast and is known for his ability to develop talent on the mound. Before his most recent stint in Boca Raton, he was an assistant at South Alabama (2007-08), Mercer University (2003-06), and North Florida Community College (2002). In all of those stops, Jackson served as a pitching coach, recruiting coordinator or both.

During his nine seasons with the Owls, Jackson helped FAU develop into one of the top baseball programs in the NCAA South-Central region. Jackson joined the FAU staff in 2008 and worked his way to the title of Associate Head Coach by September of 2016. Throughout the nine-year span in Boca Raton, the FAU program captured four conference titles and appeared in four NCAA Regionals, including the 2013 NCAA Chapel Hill Regional, where they defeated top-seeded host North Carolina. On the hill, Jackson coached 14 pitchers that were selected in the Major League Baseball Draft, 11 of which were previously undrafted prior to their time under his tutelage.

Jackson's 14 pitchers that were selected in the Major League Baseball Drafts during his time at FAU include: Alex House (24th Round, Houston Astros) in 2017; David McKay (14th Round, Kansas City Royals), Colyn O'Connell (26th Round, Detroit Tigers) and Robbie Coursel (26th Round, Pittsburgh Pirates) in 2016; Seth McGarry (8th Round, Pittsburgh Pirates), Kyle Miller (19th Round, Chicago Cubs) and Drew Jackson (35th Round, San Francisco Giants) in 2015; Austin Gomber (4th Round, St. Louis Cardinals) in 2014; Michael Sylvestri (29th Round, Washington Nationals) in 2013; R.J. Alvarez (3rd Round, Los Angeles Angels) and Ryan Garton (34th Round, Tampa Bay Rays) in 2012; Paul Davis (17th Round, San Francisco Giants) in 2011; Ryan Bernal (23rd Round, Milwaukee Brewers) and Mike Gipson (31st Round, New York Yankees) in 2010; and Alex Pepe (44th Round, Texas Rangers) in 2009.

The 2017 season under Jackson's watch saw the Owls rank second in ERA and allow the second-fewest earned runs. FAU's pitchers struck out 444 compared to only 131 walks while holding the opposition to a league-low .262 average. The pitching staff was highlighted by second team All-Conference USA selection Cameron Ragsdale.

In 2016, the Owls' staff paced Conference USA with a 3.24 ERA, six shutouts and a 1.21 WHIP, while allowing a league-low for walks, runs and doubles en route to winning the C-USA regular-season championship. The FAU pitchers ranked 14th in the nation in both ERA and walks allowed, and 15th in WHIP. The 2015 slate featured the emergence of several pitchers who gained national traction under Jackson's guidance, including one who received All-Conference honors.

As the Owls made their transition into Conference USA in 2014, Jackson's pitchers allowed only nine home runs, the fewest FAU history and the fewest in C-USA that season. The Owls ranked 19th nationally in strikeout-to-walk ratio at 2.57 – a category in which they led the league in four of the last five seasons thanks to Jackson's guidance. The 2013 team featured FAU closer Hugh Adams, as he set the school's season saves record with 18 on the way to recording both the FAU and Sun Belt Conference career saves mark with 31.

In his first three seasons at FAU, Jackson helped guide the Owls to two Sun Belt Conference titles in a three-year span. Jackson tutored starting pitcher Paul Davis and Adams earn All-South Central Region selections by the National Baseball Coaches Association of America at the end of the 2011 season.

He spent 2007 and 2008 as an assistant coach at the University of South Alabama. Two of Jackson's pitchers at USA were selected in the 2008 MLB Draft. Under his direction in 2007, Jaguar pitchers struck out 188 more batters than they walked during the previous season before his arrival.

Jackson began his collegiate coaching career as a pitching coach at North Florida Community College in 2002 before moving to Macon, Ga., in 2003 to serve as an assistant coach at Mercer University. Jackson was essential in establishing a number of new university pitching records during his three seasons with the Bears, and was elevated to the program's recruiting coordinator in 2006.

The Crimson Tide's pitching coach earned his bachelor's degree from Florida State in physical education in 2000, before going on to obtain a master's degree in sports administration at FSU. A native of Tallahassee, Fla., he and his wife, Katie, have three children, Kinsey, Tyler and Haylee.

ASSISTANT COACH JERRY ZULLI (HITTING)

JERRY ZULLI

Assistant Coach — First Year

NEW ORLEANS, 2002

University of Alabama head coach Brad Bohannon officially announced the addition of Jerry Zulli to the Crimson Tide baseball coaching staff on Friday, June 9, 2017. Zulli, who spent the 2016-17 season at Louisiana Tech, serves as an assistant coach for the Tide. He was the first addition to Bohannon's staff and brings a wealth of coaching experience to UA.

"I am so excited to add Jerry to our staff," said Bohannon. "When you're heavily involved in recruiting, you know who does a great job on the road, and he is clearly one of the best recruiters. I've known him a long time, and he checks every box that I am looking for. He's a guy of high integrity and character, he has a high motor, he can relate to a wide variety of personalities, he has a great network and is a very talented evaluator. In addition, he is a very skilled instructor, and we share a lot of the same ideas regarding team offense. Jerry is a tremendous addition to my coaching staff and will be a huge part of helping us build this program at Alabama."

Zulli has spent 15 total seasons as an assistant coach, building a reputation as a tireless recruiter and one of the top hitting coaches in college baseball. Prior to his time in Ruston, Zulli was with the Missouri staff for the 2016 campaign and was at South Alabama for four seasons from 2011-15. He began his Division I coaching career at Memphis for seven years prior to USA, spanning 2004-10. Zulli got his start in collegiate coaching at Middle Georgia College from 2002-04.

In his lone season at La Tech, his efforts helped the Bulldogs rank in the top three in nearly every offensive category in Conference USA. The offense recorded a .313 average with 203 RBI and 213 runs scored while slugging .475 and sporting a .413 on-base percentage – all totals that were second in the league. Zulli coached four hitters to all-conference honors, including a pair of first-teamers in 2017. Brent Diaz, who was one of the Bulldogs' first team all-conference selections, was also tabbed a Third Team All-American by Collegiate Baseball News while earning a spot as a semifinalist for the Johnny Bench Award.

Prior to his time at Tech, he was with Missouri for one season in 2016, running the Tigers' offense while serving as recruiting coordinator, infield coach and third base coach. His time in Columbia was highlighted by his recruiting efforts, where he was responsible for adding seven recruits to the Tigers' recruiting class, including five of which who were selected in the 2016 MLB First-Year Player Draft. In addition to his recruits that were drafted, Zulli also had two of his players from the 2015-16 Missouri roster selected in Ryan Howard (5th Round, San Francisco Giants) and Jake Ring (31st Round, Baltimore Orioles).

Before heading to Columbia, Zulli assembled the 2016 signing class at South Alabama, a collection of talent that helped lead USA to the 2016 Sun Belt regular season co-championship and an NCAA Regional appearance. Three of his four seasons in Mobile featured top-50 recruiting classes, including a 2013 class that ranked 29th by Collegiate Baseball News. That class played a significant role for the 2015 Jaguar squad that won 37 games and the Sun Belt Conference Championship.

During his four seasons at USA, Zulli coached nine of his hitters to All-Sun Belt Conference honors, one conference player of the year winner, an All-American and one Freshman All-America selection.

His offenses at South Alabama ranked atop the Sun Belt in batting average twice (2012, 2015) and was second in in 2013. His teaching made an immediate impact on the Jaguars in his first season, as the offense led the SBC in conference play in seven categories, including: average (.306), hits (321), RBI (184), runs scored (205), total bases (474), and on-base (.389) and slugging percentage (.452).

In his seven seasons at Memphis, Zulli helped the Tigers lead Conference USA in hitting and on-base percentage on three separate occasions, while ranking top-five in the league in virtually every hitting metric. He coached eight players to a combined 10 All-Conference USA honors, including Chad Zurcher, who was tabbed the 2011 C-USA Player of the Year and a Third Team All-American after leading the NCAA in average and on-base percentage. He also coached 12 players who were selected in the MLB Draft, including a five who were taken in the 2011 draft.

His first season at Memphis saw the Tigers increase their win total by 19 games from the year prior, the second-best turnaround in NCAA history at the time, while the offense finished ranked 30th nationally. His efforts continued to help the Tigers progress, eventually leading Memphis to 36 wins and a postseason berth in 2007, the program's first NCAA Regional appearance in 13 years.

Zulli began his collegiate coaching career as the recruiting coordinator at Middle Georgia College from 2002-04. The Warriors went 130-51 in his three seasons, including two JUCO World Series appearances in 2002 and 2004. His 2002 team finished sixth nationally, while the 2004 squad wrapped up the season fourth in the national polls.

As a player, Zulli began his career at Middle Georgia College for two seasons where he won the Terry Daniels Award and helped MGC to a Region XVII Championship in 1999. He then transferred to the University of New Orleans for his final two years where he lettered each season for the Privateers.

Zulli earned his bachelor's degree from UNO in sports management in 2002. He is married to the former Kristen Bell. The couple has one daughter, Zoe Madelyn.

BROCK BENNETT

Vol. Assistant Coach — First Year

ALABAMA, 2011

Brock Bennett was officially brought on to serve as the volunteer assistant coach for the Crimson Tide on July 31, 2017. A member of the Alabama baseball team from 2007-11, Bennett's hiring officially completed Bohannon's inaugural coaching staff.

"I'm so excited to bring a former Alabama baseball player back to our program in Brock Bennett," said Bohannon. "Brock has a tremendous reputation here and across college baseball. He brings a lot of energy and is very positive, and his personality matches our whole staff. He will coordinate our camps and work with our catchers, and I am very pleased to be able to have him as part of my staff here in Tuscaloosa."

Bennett returns to the Capstone after spending the previous two seasons as a volunteer assistant coach with the Georgia State Panthers, working primarily with the catchers while also assisting with hitting instruction and coaching first base. Prior to GSU, Bennett spent three seasons as an assistant coach at Georgia Perimeter College. In his three years there, he helped lead the Jaguars to a pair of regional titles. He coached the first-team all-conference catcher each of the three years, while four GPC players were drafted during his time in Alpharetta.

Prior to coaching, Bennett spent four seasons as a member of the Alabama baseball team where he was a standout catcher, compiling an impressive .314 career batting average across his four seasons. A reliable backstop for the Tide, Bennett started more than 100 games at the Capstone, including 97 behind the plate, helping UA reach four straight NCAA Regionals and advance to the Super Regionals in 2010.

His final season in Tuscaloosa saw Bennett set the UA single-season record for sacrifice bunts with 21, going on to finish his career tied for the program lead with 28 career sacrifice bunts. In that final year, he batted .338 with 22 RBI and 39 runs scored. Defensively, Bennett made three errors in 379 chances to post a team-best .992 fielding percentage while gunning down 21 runners on the basepaths. His efforts earned him Johnny Bench Award Midseason Watch List recognition.

Following the 2011 campaign, Bennett was drafted by the San Francisco Giants in the 33rd round of the 2011 MLB Draft.

A native of Tucker, Ga., Bennett graduated from the Capstone in 2011 with a degree in consumer affairs. He is married to the former Ashley Skorcz.

JACK HOEHL

Dir. of Baseball Ops. — First Year

AUBURN, 2012

Jack Hoehl was hired as the Director of Baseball Operations for the Crimson Tide on Monday, July 17, 2017. Hoehl came to Alabama from the University of Kentucky, where he spent the previous four seasons in the same position.

In his first year with the Wildcats in 2014, Kentucky reached an NCAA Regional. The 2015 campaign saw UK notch a 30-win season, including 14 wins in SEC play. Kentucky rallied for another 30-win season in 2016 on the way to an SEC Tournament appearance. Hoehl coordinated all operations for the Wildcats' postseason run in 2017, as Kentucky finished as a Super Regional participant.

Hoehl arrived in Lexington from Auburn University, where he spent four years as the head student manager for the baseball program, before serving as an event management assistant for the 2012-13 school year. As the event management assistant, Hoehl worked Auburn events for football, men's basketball, baseball, equestrian, track and field, cross country and women's golf. In his final year with the Tigers in 2013, Hoehl assisted with the planning and execution of the 2013 inaugural SEC Equestrian Championship and the 2013 NCAA Women's Golf Regional.

While serving as head student manager for the Tigers during his undergraduate years, Hoehl oversaw all responsibilities for team managers, including scheduling, field preparation, training and game day coordination. He also operated the video analysis system, compiled innovative statistical measurements and assisted the recruiting coordinator in game day preparations and prospect visits. He also was charged with creating and producing motivational and promotional videos for the program while spending the offseason supervising the AU summer baseball camps.

The Issaquah, Wash., native has also served as the coordinator of operations for the BB&T Atlanta Open (men's tennis) and as an operations intern with the Atlanta Tennis Championships.

Hoehl graduated from Auburn in December of 2012 with a degree in supply chain management.

SEAN STRYKER

Athletic Trainer — First Year

PENN STATE, 2012

Sean Stryker joined the Alabama baseball program in the fall of 2017 after spending two seasons at Auburn from 2016-17.

Stryker's stint at Auburn spanned two seasons under head coach Butch Thompson. During his time on the Plains, the Tigers went from 8-22 in conference and 23-33 overall in 2016 to 37-26 mark, including a 16-14 SEC record on the way to an NCAA Regional appearance in 2017. Stryker's time in Auburn was highlighted by the rehabilitation of third-round pick Keegan Thompson, who came back from Tommy John surgery in 2015 to have a career year a season ago, going 7-4 with a 2.41 ERA across 15 starts as the ace of the Tigers' pitching staff.

Prior to his time at AU, Stryker spent the 2015 season working with head coach Brad Bohannon, then an assistant, at Kentucky as the baseball program's head athletic trainer. During his time in Lexington, Stryker handled all daily evaluation, coordination, implementation, treatment and rehabilitation for the Wildcats' baseball team.

The Oak Ridge, N.J., native began his post-graduate career with the Baltimore Orioles in 2013 and 2014 as a staff athletic trainer. While with the Orioles, Stryker assisted the head and assistant athletic trainers with all duties related to daily prevention, evaluation and treatment of injuries.

Stryker earned a bachelor's degree in athletic training from Penn State in 2012. He then went on to earn a master's degree in sports medicine from Delaware in 2014. While at Delaware, he served as a graduate assistant athletic trainer, working primarily with the baseball program.

A member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association and the Southeast Atlantic Trainers' Association, Stryker is married to the former Samantha Maron of Wharton, N.J. The couple was married in July of 2016.

JOSH HAMPTON

Strength & Conditioning — Sixth Year

NORTH ALABAMA, 2010

Josh Hampton begins his first season with the Alabama baseball team and is in his sixth year with The University of Alabama strength and conditioning program. Hampton joined the Crimson Tide staff in 2012 and has worked with numerous sports during his six years at the Capstone including tennis, volleyball and football.

During his time in Tuscaloosa, Hampton has worked with standout Alabama football players and future NFL draft picks in Jesse Williams and Jake Coker.

His professional career began as a student assistant strength and conditioning coach at the University of North Alabama from 2009-10. Most recently, Hampton was a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach at Troy University from 2011-12 prior to coming to Alabama.

Hampton graduated with Masters in Sports and Fitness Management from Troy University in 2012. Two years prior in 2010, he earned his Bachelors in Health, Physical Education and Recreation from North Alabama. Hampton's collegiate studies began at Sewanee in 2005, where he spent one season as a linebacker with the football team.

He is credited by the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) as a certified strength and conditioning specialist (CSCS) on Aug. 15, 2012. Additionally, Hampton earned his Strength and Conditioning Coach Certification (SCCC) from the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa) on May 6, 2015.

Born in Asuncion, Paraguay, Hampton is married to the former Nicole Bohannon. The couple was married in May of 2016 in Tuscaloosa.

Put together a standout sophomore season, finishing 5-4 with a 2.67 ERA (25 ER/84.1 IP) and a team-high 84 strikeouts compared to only 35 walks allowed ... improved in SEC play, maintaining a league-low 1.93 ERA (13 ER/60.2 IP) with 51 strikeouts compared to 21 walks, while limiting the opposition to two or fewer earned runs in nine of his 10 conference outings ... his 25 earned runs tied for the fourth-fewest allowed by an SEC arm and his 2.67 overall ERA ranked seventh among league pitchers ... allowed three earned runs or fewer following his first start of the season until his last start of the season against Florida in the SEC Tournament ... did not allow a home run in conference play until his final start of the regular season on May 20 against South Carolina. Maryland (2/20): Tossed 3.2 innings and allowed five earned runs ... cruised through the first three innings, retiring nine of the first 11 batters faced before running into trouble in the fourth inning ... allowed two home runs which were the first two homers issued for his career ... fanned six batters and walked three in the outing. North Dakota (2/27): Earned his first win of the season on the power of a career-high 13 strikeouts ... those 13 batters were the most an Alabama pitcher has struck out since Taylor Guilbeau fanned 11 against Texas A&M on March 20, 2015 ... tied a career-high with 7.0 IP. N.C. State (3/5): Did not factor into the win after throwing 6.0 IP and allowing one earned run against the No. 8 Wolfpack ... struck out six batters for the third straight game ... allowed a season-low four hits while throwing 102 pitches. LSU (3/19): Earned his second win of the season, working 5.2 innings and allowing one earned run on seven hits and a walk with three strikeouts. Tennessee (3/26): Worked another solid start, tossing 5.2 innings and allowing two runs (one earned) with a four hits, a walk and five strikeouts. Georgia (4/1): Worked 6.0 innings and allowed one earned run (three total) on seven hits with a walk and seven strikeouts … was the victim of two errors in the third that resulted in two of his three runs allowed. Kentucky (4/9): Tossed 5.1 innings of one-run baseball, giving up five hits and walking three while striking out five. Ole Miss (4/16): Put together a season-high 7.0 innings of scoreless baseball, allowing four hits and issuing a walk while striking out four batters for his third win of the season. Texas A&M (4/23): Grinded out a scoreless 5.2 innings of work, allowing five hits and a season-high six walks, but showing the poise to get out of big situations for his team-leading fourth win of the year ... allowed runners to reach in three of his five full frames, but stranded eight total by the end of his day. Mississippi State (4/30): Did not factor into the decision in game one, throwing 6.1 innings and striking out six ... allowed two earned runs on seven hits, matching his run total from his previous four starts combined … finished the month of April with a 1.19 ERA (4 ER/30.1 IP) with 23 strikeouts and 10 walks through five outings. Auburn (5/7): Tossed 5.0 innings and allowed two runs (one earned) on two hits and three walks with five strikeouts before turning it over to the bullpen … allowed only one earned run … the two hits allowed tied his career-low as a starter. Arkansas (5/14): Provided another strong start for the Tide, striking out nine total batters across his 7.0 innings of work to collect his fifth win of the season … gave up eight hits and issued three walks resulting in two earned runs ... faced a career-high 31 batters in the outing against the Razorbacks.

FRESHMAN (2015)

Began his freshman campaign as a reliever before moving into a starter role, first on Tuesdays and then eventually on Saturdays ... finished the season with a 4-4 record across 15 appearances (10 starts) and maintained a 3.36 ERA (21 ER/56.1 IP) ... was 3-4 with a 3.10 ERA (17 ER/48.2 IP) in 10 starts, notching 54 strikeouts and limiting opposing hitters to a .218 average ... out of the bullpen, went 1-0 with one save and sported a 4.70 ERA (4 ER/7.2 IP). Houston (2/21): Made his first career appearance for the Crimson Tide, tossing 0.2 scoreless IP. Savannah State (2/24): Worked 3.1 IP in game one against the Tigers, allowing two runs on four hits and two walks with five punchouts to earn his first career win. Samford (3/17): Earned the first start and win of his career and win in the starter's role, tossing 5.0

innings and striking out a then-team high nine batters ... recorded five of his first six outs by way of the strikeout ... surrendered just two hits across the start. South Alabama (3/24): Threw 5.0 IP and allowed two unearned runs to suffer the loss, his first of the season ... allowed three hits and three walks while striking out three Jaguars. Samford (4/7): Tossed 5.0 scoreless innings and gave up only one hit while walking one to earn the win ... tied his season high for strikeouts with nine. Georgia (4/12): Went 2.0 scoreless innings to earn his first career save ... gave up a hit and issued one walk while striking out two Bulldogs. Missouri (4/18): Collected the win in his first Southeastern Conference start ... tossed a season-high 7.0 innings of one-run baseball, striking out five ... did not allow a run despite giving up seven hits and walking one batter across 107 pitches. Ole Miss (4/25): Suffered the loss, his first since March 23 ... worked 7.0 innings of one-run baseball, striking out six in the process ... scattered six hits and retired nine straight at one point in the night ... allowed a career-high four walks across his 103 total pitches ... was outdueled by the Rebel pitcher, who allowed just one run on the night. Auburn (5/9): Did not factor into the decision against the Tigers ... allowed three unearned runs to continue his stealer play in SEC action, not allowing more than one run in three of his first four conference starts ... recorded six strikeouts to extend his streak of five or more punchouts in his first four conference outings ... kept the Crimson Tide in striking distance before exiting the game ... Alabama would go on to score six runs after his exit and claim the 7-6 win and series victory. Texas A&M (5/20): Made the first postseason start of his career, but did not factor into the decision in the SEC Tournament ... put together 5.1 innings of work, allowing three runs on five hits and three walks while striking out four ... exited the game with the game knotted at 3-3 ... the Aggies would add one in the bottom of the eighth off the Crimson Tide bullpen to claim the 4-3 win.

2017 SEASON REVIEW

SEASON NOTES

• Alabama finished the 2017 season with a 19-34-1 overall record and a 5-24-1 mark in Southeastern Conference play. The Crimson Tide finished in 14th place in the final SEC regular-season standings.

• Head coach Greg Goff was relieved of his duties following the completion of the season. Goff coached one season at Alabama before his termination, which came on May 24, 2017.

• The Crimson Tide was competitive in most of its games during the season, with 14 of the 34 total losses coming by two or fewer runs.

• UA's schedule featured 19 contests against top-25 teams, with the Tide earning a series sweep at then-No. 4 Auburn on the Plains to highlight the ranked slate.

• The 2017 team played in the two longest games by time in Alabama baseball history. The Tide played in a 5:43, 13-inning contest at 11th-ranked Mississippi State on April 21 as part of a doubleheader. The game extended into the morning of April 22 after starting at 8:05 p.m. CT and went in favor of the Bulldogs, 13-12. Two weeks later on May 7, Alabama squared off with rival Auburn for a 6:36 game that lasted 15 innings on the Plains to top the State pairing as the longest game in program history. The Crimson Tide came out on the winning end of that game with an 11-9 final.

• Alabama's pitching staff sported a 4.83 ERA (260 ER/484.2 IP). The Tide arms struck out 421 batters while walking 260 and saw opposing hitters bat .276. UA pitchers led the league in pickoffs with 14 and allowed the second-fewest home runs in the SEC with 27.

• Defensively, the Tide sported a .971 fielding percentage. Alabama defenders turned a league-leading 50 double plays during the regular season and the unit was highlighted by the combination of Cobie Vance and Chandler Avant up the middle. Vance led the league in double plays turned with 40 and tied for ninth in assists with 144, while Avant was the league leader in assists at 190 and was tied for 10th in twin killings with 31.

• On offense, Alabama finished with a .263 (476-1,812) average, an improvement of .14 from the year prior. The Tide produced 90 doubles, six triples and 46 home runs, 16 more homers than the 2016 team. UA drew 207 walks and was hit by 52 pitches while also stealing 27 bases in 51 attempts.

• Alabama Director of Athletics Greg Byrne officially hired Brad Bohannon to be the Crimson Tide's 32nd baseball coach in program history. Bohannon was announced on Thursday, June 1, 2017, and was formally introduced on-campus four days later on Monday, June 4.

"THE NEW JOE" A HIT WITH FANS

Alabama's newly renovated stadium entered its second season after re-opening at the start of the 2016 campaign. In 2017, Sewell-Thomas Stadium hosted 36 home games and welcomed 135,835 fans through its gates to average 3,773 fans per game. The Tide's total attendance ranked 11th nationally while the average attendance per game was 15th across the NCAA. The Crimson Tide sold out on two occasions, with the first sellout coming on March 3 against ULM as 5,867 fans came through the gates of The Joe. Alabama's other sellout came on April 29 against No. 15 LSU, as 4,918 fans watched the Tide and Tigers.

STAYING AT THE HOUSE

The Crimson Tide began the 2017 schedule with 20 consecutive home games at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. Dating back to 1946 (post World War II era), the 20 straight home contests tied for the second-most to start a single season in Alabama baseball history. UA played 28 straight games in Tuscaloosa to start the 1974 campaign, the longest home stretch to start a new season in program annals. The 28-game stretch included six games played in Tuscaloosa as part of the Joe Sewell Classic, hosted by the Tide at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. Alabama finished 21-7 over that stretch in 1974. The Tide also played 20 consecutive home games in 1946 to match the 2017 stretch. Over the season-opening stretch, the Tide went 10-10 and went on to finish with a 14-22 mark overall in 36 total home contests.

NO EASY ROAD TO CLOSE OUT THE SEASON

• The Crimson Tide's final month of the season featured one of the toughest stretches in college baseball.

• Over the final five weekends, Alabama faced four teams ranked in Baseball America's top-25 poll and wrapped up the season against Vanderbilt, a team that was receiving votes in the national polls.

• The list began with then-11th-ranked Mississippi State on April 20-21, and was followed by a three-game set at home against No. 15 LSU from April 27-29. The Tide then swept Auburn on the Plains from May 6-7, who was ranked fourth at the time before hosting seventh-ranked Florida for a three-game stretch. Alabama closed out the season against the Commodores, who were not ranked at the time of play, but were receiving votes in the Baseball America poll along with all other national polls.

• All five teams were selected to an NCAA Regional with Florida and LSU advancing to the College World Series, where the Gators would go on to be crowned national champions.

ALABAMA PLAYS IN TWO LONGEST GAMES IN PROGRAM HISTORY

• The Crimson Tide played in five extra-innings affairs in 2017, two of which would finish as the longest games by minutes in Alabama baseball history.

• Prior to 2017, Alabama had played in only two games lasting over five hours, but that total doubled by year's end. The Tide first played in a 13-inning affair at 11th-ranked Mississippi State on April 21 into the morning of April 22, falling 13-12 to the Bulldogs. UA then topped that two weeks later on May 7 at No. 4 Auburn, totaling a 6:36 game across 15 innings of play on the Plains. Alabama would come out victorious in Auburn, 11-9, to complete the series sweep of the Tigers.

• The Tide was forced to play a doubleheader on Friday night in Starkville to avoid severe storms on Saturday's originally scheduled date. The first game of the twinbill lasted 3:28 with a 40-minute gap in-between the two contests. Game two of the day began at 8:05 p.m. CT and lasted into the early morning hours of the next day.

• Alabama fell, 13-12, to State in a 13-inning contest in game two. The game totaled 5:43 to mark the longest recorded game by time in UA history up to that point. The two teams maintained large leads, with the Tide going up by five heading into the bottom of the sixth before the Bulldogs plated nine runs in the inning. Alabama then tallied two runs in both the seventh and eighth innings to even things up and send it to extras. In the 11th, each team scored three before Mississippi State secured the win with one run in the bottom of the 13th.

• Two weeks later, Alabama traveled to Auburn for a weekend series on the Plains. The Crimson Tide recorded wins in each of Saturday's doubleheader to secure the series but went for the sweep in Sunday's contest on May 7. Alabama would top its prior record from the MSU game to go for 6:36 in the series finale against AU and claim an 11-9, 15-inning victory.

• Sunday's series finale saw seven lead changes, including three different times in extra innings where Alabama scored and Auburn matched to extend the game up until the 15th inning. In that 15th frame, the Crimson Tide was able to score two on a Sam Finnerty RBI-single and a sacrifice fly from Connor Short to take the decisive lead. The Tide brought in Garrett Suchey with a runner aboard in the bottom of the 15th, but the junior shut the door with a lineout to center for the game's final out.

• Alabama used eight total pitchers and 20 players saw time at the plate, including three who did both - Finnerty, Zac Rogers and Sonny Potter. The Crimson Tide's seventh pitcher of the night, Potter, got his first career win with 0.1 of an inning worked. Suchey followed him with 1.0 inning of scoreless baseball for his third save of the season.

• Prior to the two games this season, Alabama's longest game by minutes was 5:25 against LSU in a game that went 15 innings in Hoover on April 2, 2015. The second-longest game by minutes came on March 31, 2016, at Georgia when the Bulldogs and Tide went 13 innings and 5:15. Rounding out the top three previously was a 4:55 contest against LSU on April 20, 2013, across 16 innings.

WEEKEND SWEEP IN AUBURN

• The Crimson Tide traveled to then-fourth ranked Auburn from May 6-7 and swept the Tigers on their home turf.

• Alabama's three wins at Auburn marked the third time a Tide team has swept the Tigers on the Plains in consecutive weekend series in program history, and the first time UA has completed three-game sweeps of AU in Auburn in consecutive trips.

• The trio of victories also pushed Alabama's winning streak in Auburn to seven consecutive games to tie for the longest winning streak over the Tigers. The other streak came from May 6, 1955-April 21, 1958 - the only other time a Crimson Tide team has accomplished the feat.

• Alabama's offense was led by SEC Player of the Week Chandler Taylor, who finished at a .500 (7-14) pace to earn the conference's weekly award. Taylor contributed two doubles, three home runs, three RBI, five runs scored and three walks to lead the UA offense in every statistical category. He finished with a team-high 1.286 slugging percentage for the three-game series, tallying five extra-base hits, and totaled 16 bases across the weekend.

• Alabama secured the series win on Saturday with a sweep of the Tigers with a pair of one-run victories in doubleheader action. The Tide came away with a 4-3 win in the series opener before holding off a late Tiger rally for the 7-6 victory in the day's second game. Taylor highlighted the UA offense, finishing 3-for-8 on the day with two home runs, a pair of RBI, two runs scored and a walk. Davis Vainer nabbed a save in each game and combined for five strikeouts. Game one starter Jake Walters picked up the win in the series opener while reliever Zac Rogers earned the victory in the nightcap.

• The Crimson Tide claimed a 4-3 win in the series opener with the Tigers. UA received a strong combined pitching effort from the trio of Walters, Garrett Suchey and Vainer for the victory. Walters got the win with 5.0 innings of one-run baseball, allowing five hits, walking four and striking out one batter in the starting effort. He was followed by Suchey, who tossed 3.2 innings and allowed two runs on three hits before exiting with two down in the ninth. Vainer collected his fourth save of the season, striking out the final batter of the game to strand the tying run at first and secure the victory for UA.

• Taylor paced the Alabama offense in game one, tying his season high for hits with a 3-for-4 day that included two home runs - both solo shots - two RBI, two runs scored and one walk. The multi-homer game was the second of Taylor's career. Also contributing a multi-hit effort was Alex Webb, who finished 2-for-3.

• Alabama held off a late rally from the Tigers, as the Tide secured the 7-6 win in the day's second game. Alabama and Auburn traded runs throughout the first six frames before UA put up two in both the seventh and eighth innings for needed insurance. Auburn rallied for two in the bottom of the eighth and one in the ninth with the tying and winning runs on base, but Vainer shut the door for his fifth save of the season and his second on the day. Rogers claimed the win with 1.0 inning of relief.

• Seven of the nine Alabama starters recorded at least one hit in game two with seven registering at least one run scored. The Tide offense was paced by Kyle Kaufman, who finished 2-for-4 with two RBI and a run scored. Kaufman's bases-loaded single in the eighth plated both his RBI and would eventually prove the difference in the one-run evening affair.

• In the longest game in Alabama baseball history, the Crimson Tide took down Auburn to complete the weekend sweep. Sunday's series finale saw seven lead changes, including three different times in extra innings where Alabama scored and Auburn matched to extend the game up until the 15th inning. In that 15th, the Crimson Tide was able to score two on a Sam Finnerty RBI-single and sacrifice fly from Connor Short to take the decisive lead. The Tide then brought in Suchey with a runner aboard, but the junior shut the door with a lineout to center for the game's final out to secure the UA sweep.

• Alabama used eight total pitchers and 20 players saw time at the plate, including three who did both - Finnerty, Rogers and Sonny Potter. Deacon Medders also stepped into the box, but a caught stealing ended the inning before he was replaced by a pinch-hitter in the next inning. The Crimson Tide's seventh pitcher of the night, Potter, got his first career win with 0.1 of an inning worked. Suchey followed him with 1.0 inning of scoreless baseball for his third save of the season.

• Offensively, Taylor led the Tide once again, finishing 4-for-6 with two doubles, a home run, one RBI, a team-high three runs scored and two walks. Also homering was Alexander as part of his 2-for-6 night that included a team-high tying two RBI, two runs scored and a pair of walks.

FIGHTING AN UPHILL BATTLE

• Alabama fell behind early and often in 2017, having to battle back from a deficit for most of the game on a consistent basis.

• When the opposition was the first to score, UA went only 6-20. In comparison, the Tide was 13-14-1 when scoring first in a game to more than double its win total.

• The scoring started early in many of those games, with opposing teams putting at least one run on the board in the first inning on 18 occasions. In those 18 games where the Tide trailed after the first half inning, Alabama sported a 4-14 mark and lost its last nine in a row when falling behind after the first half frame.

• Early inning troubles were a major part of SEC play as well, with the opposition scoring before the Tide in 18 of the team's 30 conference pairings. Across those 18 games, Alabama was just 3-15 when falling behind early and 1-11 when allowing its opponent to get on the board in the first inning of play.

• Alabama was outscored, 45-32, in the first innings of games in 2017. In comparison, the Tide arms calmed the opposing offenses after that initial inning, allowing only 13 runs in the second inning of games while scoring 40 runs of their own in the second.

TIDE'S MIDDLE INFIELD EXCELLED IN 2017

• Alabama was solid up the middle on the infield, with the duo of second baseman Cobie Vance and shortstop Chandler Avant playing defense at a high level in their second season together.

• The tandem ranked among the top-10 in the SEC for double plays turned during the regular season, with Vance leading the league at 40 and Avant tied for 10th with 31.

• Avant was stellar at shortstop, leading the league with 190 assists, 24 more than the second-place fielder during regular-season action. Vance followed him closely with 144 to tie for ninth in the SEC.

• The double-play duo was a big reason why the Crimson Tide led the league for double plays turned in the regular season with 50.

ALABAMA PITCHING IN THE LEAGUE

• Alabama's pitchers did some good things on the hill in 2017.

• The Tide arms limited the big hits, allowing only 27 home runs to rank as the second-fewest in the league during regular-season action.

• Once runners reached base, they were not necessarily advancing. UA picked off a league-leading 14 runners in 2017.

• Having one on did not necessarily mean a rally was to follow when facing Tide pitching. The Crimson Tide defense led the league in double plays turned at 50. Nick Eicholtz and Jake Walters tied for the Alabama lead with nine double plays per player, Eicholtz across his 12 starts and Walters in his 14 appearances (13 starts). Sam Finnerty finished with five DPs to rank third while Deacon Medders and Garrett Suchey each registered four DPs to tie for fourth. Every regular arm in the Tide's arsenal had at least one double play with eight players having multiple twin-killings turned on their watch.

CHANDLER TAYLOR IN CONFERENCE PLAY

• Over the last two seasons, sophomore Chandler Taylor has improved once he enters conference play.

• As a sophomore, Taylor led Alabama in nearly every offensive category, including average (.295), hits (33), home runs (10), RBI (15) runs (19), walks (16) and total bases (71) in SEC games. He has also added eight doubles to tie for the team lead.

• Taylor got off to a slow start in league play as a sophomore, batting a lowly .152 (5-33) with a double, two home runs, three RBI, two runs scored and three walks in his first nine SEC games. He totaled 17 strikeouts and went hitless in five of the nine opening contests. Following that slow start, he batted a team-leading .354 (28-79) in the Tide's last seven conference series. Over the final 21 conference games, he accumulated a team-leading 28 hits, seven doubles, eight home runs, 12 RBI, 17 runs scored and 13 walks. Taylor also added 59 total bases - more than double No. 2 on the team in that category - and slugged .747 with a .442 on-base percentage to lead UA in both stat columns.

• Across the last 21 games of the SEC slate, Taylor failed to record a hit only six times and tallied multiple hits on eight occasions, including a season-high four hits at Auburn on May 7 in the 15-inning series finale on the Plains.

• In his freshman campaign, Taylor put together a solid season against SEC foes. He batted a team-leading .295 (31-105) with 16 extra-base hits (seven doubles, two triples, seven home runs), 25 RBI, 16 runs, 24 walks and 63 total bases. He also led the 2016 squad with nine multi-RBI games and tied fellow freshman Cobie Vance with 10 multi-hit contests to pace the Alabama offense.

• Taylor reached base safely in 18 straight SEC games and 27 of the 29 conference pairings that he played in during his first year of collegiate baseball with the Tide.

• The right fielder entered the SEC Tournament on a nine-game hitting streak in conference play, batting .441 (15-34) with three doubles, three home runs, 12 RBI, six runs scored and eight walks to close out his freshman year. He slugged .794 and sported an on-base percentage of .548, both team highs, while going a perfect 3-for-3 on stolen base attempts during the streak to close out the regular season slate.

CONSISTENT PROGRESSION FROM TAYLOR

• Over his two seasons with the Crimson Tide, Chandler Taylor has shown consistent improvement as the season wears on.

• In his first 27 games of 2017 - or the first half of the season - Taylor batted .228 (21-92) with three doubles, a triple, seven home runs, 17 RBI, 18 runs scored and walked 14 times. The second half of the season saw Taylor post much different results. He batted .333 (32-96) with seven doubles, nine home runs, 17 RBI, 21 runs and has drawn 18 walks in the last 27 games (25 starts).

• Taylor heated up as the season progressed in his first year with the Crimson Tide. The freshman batted .321 (25-78) with four doubles, a triple, five home runs, 20 RBI, 12 runs scored, 24 walks, five stolen bases and 46 total bases across his final 23 regular-season contests. Over that time, he ranked first or second in nearly every offensive category. Taylor led Alabama in RBI, walks, total bases, slugging (.590) and on-base (.485) percentage, and was second in hits and stolen bases.

• In comparison, across his first 29 games as a freshman, Taylor batted .255 (25-98) with two doubles, two triples, four home runs, 12 RBI, 15 runs scored and 12 walks.

HENRY HEATED UP AS THE SEASON WORE ON

• Junior Cody Henry recorded his best season during his three years at the Capstone in 2017, maintaining a .294 (52-177) average to lead everyday starters and rank third overall for UA.

• Henry added 10 doubles, eight home runs and 29 runs scored - all totals that ranked in the top three on the team. He also contributed 31 RBI and drew 13 walks while ranking third with 86 total bases. He also contributed 17 multi-hit games to tie for the UA team lead.

• After hitting a bit of a slump as a sophomore, Henry has bounced back in 2017. He began the season with a respectable .290 (9-31) average in the first month, but followed that up with a March in which the junior batted .305.

• Henry's March saw the switch-hitter slug a team-leading five home runs and cross for 13 runs, also a team-high mark. His 18 hits in the month were second for the Tide while his 10 RBI in March ties for second.

• He reached base safely in nine straight games from March 3-15 while also contributing a six-game hitting streak spanning March 9-15. During that hitting streak, Henry batted a team-leading .526 (10-19) with a double, three home runs, five RBI, seven runs scored and three walks. He totaled four multi-hit efforts during the streak and registered at least one run scored in five of the six games.

• In April, Henry tallied 22 hits while adding three doubles and three home runs with a team-high 20 RBI, nine more than second place. He also contributed 10 runs scored, five walks, two hit-by-pitches and a pair of sacrifice flies.

• The junior played part of just one game in Auburn before injuring his back to hold him out for the rest of the weekend and the midweek contest with Grambling. Henry was limited to pinch-hit duties of the first two games against Florida and started the series finale at designated hitter, closing out his weekend 1-for-5. At Vanderbilt, Henry went 2-for-8 with a double and a run scored while still battling injuries to close out the year.

AVANT IN APRIL

• Junior shortstop Chandler Avant put together a standout April each of the last two seasons for the Crimson Tide.

• In 2017, Avant batted at a .312 (24-77) clip and hit safely in all but one contest during the month of April.

• Avant's .312 average was tops among the Tide's regular starters this past month.

• He led the Tide with five doubles and ranked third with 32 total bases, while contributing 12 runs scored and adding 10 RBI.

• As a sophomore, Avant played in only 15 games before suffering a season-ending ankle injury at Texas A&M. Prior to his setback, he led the Tide in almost every offensive category in April. Avant maintained a team-leading .351 (20-57) average with 20 hits, nine doubles, a triple, 11 RBI, 11 runs scored, 31 total bases and a .544 slugging percentage - all totals the led UA heading into the weekend in College Station.

• For his career, Avant has batted .282 (57-202) with 15 doubles, a triple, one home run, 28 RBI, 30 runs scored and six walks with a 4-for-6 tally on stolen base attempts in the month of April. In his last two seasons alone, the shortstop is batting .328 (44-134) with 14 doubles, one triple, a home run, 21 RBI, 23 runs scored and four walks while adding two stolen bases.

CHANDLER TAYLOR NAMED SECOND TEAM ALL-SEC

• In his second season with the Crimson Tide, sophomore outfielder Chandler Taylor once again earned All-SEC honors, this time as a Second Team All-SEC selection in 2017.

• Taylor put together a solid sophomore effort after a standout freshman campaign. He finished the 2017 season as the team leader in seven offensive categories including: home runs (16), RBI (34), runs (39), walks (32), stolen bases (7-11), slugging percentage (.601) and total bases (113).

• His 16 home runs were the most by a member of the Crimson Tide since Clay Jones' 17 in 2010.

• In the SEC ranks, Taylor was fourth in home runs, fifth in slugging percentage and seventh in total bases at the conclusion of the regular season.

• SEC play saw Taylor lead everyday starters in batting average at .295 (33-112), while contributing a team-leading 10 home runs, 15 RBI, 19 runs scored, 71 total bases and 16 walks. His .634 slugging and .382 on-base percentages also led the team, while his eight doubles and three stolen bases each tied for the team-high mark.

• Against SEC opposition, Taylor ranked fourth in the league in home runs, fifth in slugging and seventh in total bases.

• His 2017 season was highlighted by the weekend in Auburn, in which he helped Alabama sweep the Tigers on his way to SEC Player of the Week honors. Across the three games, Taylor batted .500 (7-14) with two doubles, three home runs, three RBI, five runs scored and three walks to lead UA in every statistical category. He finished the weekend with a team-high 1.286 slugging percentage, tallying five extra-base hits and totaling 16 bases by the end of the series.

• The all-conference recognition was the second of Taylor's career, as he also selected to the All-SEC Freshman Team in 2016.

TAYLOR SELECTED AS SEC PLAYER OF THE WEEK FOLLOWING AUBURN

• Sophomore outfielder Chandler Taylor was selected the Southeastern Conference Player of the Week following his impressive weekend against Auburn from May 6-7, the league office announced on Monday, May 8.

• Taylor powered an Alabama offense that helped the Crimson Tide sweep the fourth-ranked Tigers on the Plains. He finished as the team leader in every offensive category, batting .500 (7-14) with two doubles, three home runs, three RBI, five runs scored and three walks. The Montgomery native finished with a team-high 1.286 slugging percentage for the three-game series, tallying five extra-base hits, and totaled 16 bases by the end of the series.

• In game one of the weekend, Taylor finished with a season-high tying three hits as part of his 3-for-4 night that included two home runs to mark the second time this season he has homered twice in the same game.

• Sunday's finale saw Taylor capitalize on his effort in the opener with a 4-for-6 night, collecting his team-leading 15th home run of the season and adding two doubles, an RBI and a career-high tying three runs scored.

• The award was the second SEC weekly honor of his career, as he was named SEC Freshman of the Week last season on March 21. He closed out that freshman campaign with a selection to the 2016 SEC All-Freshman Team as an outfielder.

OCZYPOK NAMED TO 2017 SEC BASEBALL COMMUNITY SERVICE TEAM

• Senior Mike Oczypok was selected to the 2017 SEC Baseball Community Service Team on May 17, the league office announced.

• Oczypok, who wrapped up his fifth season with the Crimson Tide baseball program in 2017, contributed double-digit community service hours each academic year during his time in Tuscaloosa. He volunteered multiple hours as part of team events, while also taking it upon himself to volunteer his time outside of required team activities.

• In 2017 alone, Oczypok led all UA baseball players in hours worked, once again dedicating his time to volunteer at opportunities in the Tuscaloosa community. To start the year, Oczypok spent time volunteering for the "Yeah Yeah Yeah 5K" on campus to help raise money for Cystic Fibrosis. He followed that by visiting the Miracle League of Tuscaloosa with his teammates, meeting the League's players, signing autographs, snapping pictures and taking part in a pick-up game to close out the afternoon.

• The Royersford, Pa., native was an active participant at the Alabama Athletics Department's annual "Halloween Extravaganza" inside the Hank Crisp Indoor Facility. Each season, UA Athletics hosts the event to allow youth to interact with the University's student-athletes from all sports and take part in sport-specific mini-games while also trick-or-treating in a safe and controlled environment. Oczypok was a part of the "Tide Moves" Fall project and closed out the semester with a visit to Sprayberry Elementary for the school's annual Christmas party with the Alabama baseball team.

• Most important to Oczypok was his time with the Al's Pals Mentorship Program. During his freshman and senior seasons, Oczypok mentored a student for three hours one night each week for an entire semester. Each year, over 1,000 university students serve as mentors and student leaders to help their mentees with completing homework, reinforcing reading and math skills, and by joining them in enrichment and recreational activities.

• Oczypok was also a member of the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee during his time at the Capstone, while also being a part Crimson Catalysts (junior leadership council) and Legacy Leaders (senior leadership council).

• The SEC names a Community Service Team for each of its 21 league-sponsored sports, looking to highlight an athlete from each member school who gives back to his or her community through superior service efforts.

GREG GOFF RELIEVED OF HIS DUTIES

• On Wednesday, May 24, Greg Goff was relieved of his duties as head coach of The University of Alabama baseball program.

• Associate head coach Terry Rooney served as the interim head coach until a replacement for Goff was named.

• Goff went 19-34-1 overall and 5-24-1 in Southeastern Conference play in his lone season with the Alabama baseball program.

BRAD BOHANNON HIRED AS NEW ALABAMA BASEBALL COACH

• Brad Bohannon, the 2015 American Baseball Coaches Association and Baseball America National Assistant Coach of the Year, was named the 32nd head coach of the Alabama baseball team in program history on Thursday, June 1.

• Bohannon's resume' featured 14 years of Southeastern Conference coaching experience prior to coming to Tuscaloosa, after having served as an assistant at Kentucky from 2004-15, and, most recently, Auburn from 2016-17.

• The veteran assistant was officially introduced as head coach of the Crimson Tide baseball program on Monday, June 5.

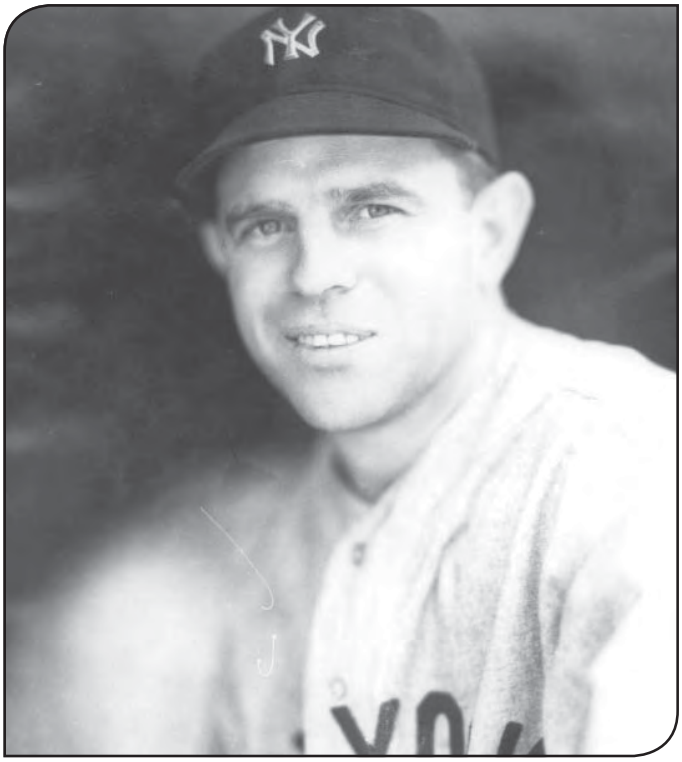
1977 MLB HALL OF FAME MEMBER - JOE SEWELL



Joe Sewell had a knack for this "funny game."

That knack has made him the only player in Crimson Tide baseball annals to be inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in the quaint little town of Cooperstown, N.Y.

The only other Crimson Tider in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum is New York Yankees legendary broadcaster Mel Allen, who along with Florida alum Red Barber earned induction in 1978 as the inaugural winners of the Ford C. Frick Award.

Inducted in the Hall of Fame in 1977, Sewell's career spanned 14 seasons with the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees.

From the moment he left the Capstone as student body president in 1919, Sewell's major league career was the stuff dreams are made of. After leading the Crimson Tide to the 1919 Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship, Sewell was selected by the Indians and signed with the New Orleans team in the Southern Association.

The Titus, Ala., native made his Major League debut with the Indians in the heat of a 1920 pennant drive, after their everyday shortstop was killed after being hit with a submarine pitch. Sewell rose to the challenge and batted .329 over the final 22 games of the season to help the Indians clinch the American League pennant.

Alongside future Hall of Famers Stanley Coveleski, Tris Speaker and Bill Wambsganss, Sewell and the Indians disposed of the Brooklyn Robins in seven games, taking the 1920 series five games to two. Sewell batted only .174 (4-23) in his first trip to the fall classic, but was solid in the field in all seven games, helping the Indians lay claim to the World Series title.

He played 11 years for the Indians before joining the New York Yankees roster for the final three years of his outstanding Major League career.

Sewell once again tasted greatness with Yankees in 1932, when New York beat the Chicago Cubs in the most talked about World Series in history. The Yankees won 107 games in 1932 and swept the Cubs in the best-of-seven fall classic. The Yankees took the first two games at Yankee Stadium (12-6 and 5-2) before moving to Wrigley Field for games three and four.

In game three, Babe Ruth, a teammate and close friend of Sewell, made baseball history. Ruth's fifth inning at-bat off Chicago hurler Charley Root is still the most talked about home run in baseball history.

Ruth earlier had slugged a three-run home run in the first inning and legend has it that, after taking two called strikes in his third at-bat, the Sultan of Swat pointed to center field before he slammed a two-run home run over the head of Johnny Moore. It has become the most debated home run in the history of the fall classic.

The Yankees won the game 7-5 and then closed out the Cubs the following day (13-6) to win the 1932 World Championship. In a lineup filled with Hall of Famers from Frank Crosetti to Bill Dickey to Lou Gehrig to Ruth, Sewell batted .333 (5-15) in the four games with six runs scored and two RBI. He was on base when Ruth slugged his first-inning home run in game three and witnessed the famed "called shot" from the Yankees dugout.

Sewell also was a close friend and roommate with Yankee legend Lou Gehrig, whose career tragically was cut short due to ALS in the 1930s.

In 14 Major League seasons, Sewell batted .312 (2,226-7,132) with 1,051 career RBI. He played in nearly 2,000 career games and logged over 7,000 at-bats for the Indians and Yankees. He also had more than 2,000 hits, 1,000 runs scored and 1,000 RBI.

Sewell hit .300 or better in 10 of his 14 seasons in the big leagues. His best season was 1923 when he batted .353 (195-553) with the Indians. He collected a career-high 204 hits with the Indians in 1925 when he posted a .336 (204-608) batting average.

An outstanding fielder, Sewell led the American League in putouts and assists four times in his career and led the league in fielding percentage three times.

A "singles hitter" overshadowed by some the game's greatest sluggers, Sewell set five major league records that continue to pass the test of time: fewest strikeouts in a season (3, two times); consecutive games without a strikeout (115); consecutive at-bats without a strikeout (437); most seasons of 500 or more at-bats with fewer than four strikeouts (4); and fewest career strikeouts (114).

Throughout his sparkling 14-year career at the pinnacle of the baseball profession, Sewell turned in numbers that simply are amazing to the average baseball fan. For instance, his 114 career strikeouts in more than 7,000 career at-bats averages out to one strikeout for every 63 at-bats, and one strikeout in every 16 games played.

And still years later, in 1964 at age 66, Sewell, a Tuscaloosa resident and businessman since his college days, took over the Crimson Tide's baseball program as head coach. In his seven-year tenure, Alabama compiled a 114-99 (.535) record, which included winning the 1968 SEC Championship and a trip to the NCAA District III Playoffs in North Carolina.

Sewell was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in 1977, along with Ernie Banks, Martin Dihigo, Pop Lloyd, Al Lopez and Amos Rusie. He is one of 11 Alabama natives to be enshrined in Cooperstown, joining fellow legends Hank Aaron (Mobile), Monte Irvin (Columbia), Heinie Manush (Tuscumbia), Willie Mays (Westfield), Willie McCovey (Mobile), Satchel Paige (Mobile), Ozzie Smith (Mobile), Don Sutton (Clio), Billy Williams (Whistler) and Early Wynn (Hartford).

Sewell died on March 6, 1990, in Mobile, Ala., after a lengthy illness. At the time of his death he was the oldest living baseball Hall of Famer at 91 years of age.

FORD C. FRICK AWARD - MEL ALLEN

Mel Allen is as much a part of the national pastime as the squeeze play, hot dogs, and pennants flapping in the breeze. And he never played in the big leagues. Instead he broadcasted the game, and that allowed the fans to play the games over and over in their minds. His voice is the one that millions of fans associate with the game of baseball.

Born Melvin Allen Israel, the son of a traveling textile representative in Birmingham, and raised all over Alabama, he was a spindly student manager for the Crimson Tide football and baseball teams when he received his chance to announce games. Allen's first assignment behind the microphone was doing play-by-play of a football game between Tulane and Alabama, his beloved alma mater.

While a student at Alabama, Allen sold shoes, coached speech and debate, and ultimately earned his law degree before winning an audition to announce in New York for CBS Radio. After the audition with CBS in 1936, Allen broadcast his first World Series for the network in 1938. He joined the Yankees the following year and stayed for 25 more, delighting millions of baseball fans with his warm sign-on – "Hello, everybody!" – and his trademark phrases "How about that!" and "Going, going, gone!"

Allen was the voice of the New York Yankees from 1939 to 1964, covering the team that aroused more passion than any other in baseball. With his vivid phrases and pleasing Alabama drawl, he called many of the great events in the game: the Babe's good-bye, Larsen's perfect game in the 1956 World Series, Mantle's heroics, Maris' record-shattering summer (1961), Casey's barbs and Yogi's convoluted pronouncements.

"Mel Allen meant as much to Yankee tradition as legends like Ruth, Gehrig, DiMaggio and Mantle," Yankees owner George Steinbrenner said. "He was the voice of the Yankees."

In an era before television, millions of radio listeners around the nation envisioned the game through the descriptions of this thoughtful and articulate Alabamian who prided himself on being both a reporter and storyteller.

Allen later moved to the Milwaukee Braves in 1965, went on to broadcast for the Cleveland Indians and handled a variety of assignments for NBC. He returned as the voice of the New York Yankees in 1970s and began a 19-year association with This Week in Baseball as host of the popular television program.

Former Crimson Tide baseball manager and public address announcer Mel Allen was the voice of the New York Yankees for 39 years. Allen served as emcee for "Babe Ruth Day" at Yankee Stadium.

In his 58 years of sports broadcasting, Allen did it all. He called thousands of Yankees games, 24 Major League Baseball World Series, 20 All-Star Games, 14 Rose Bowls, five Orange Bowls, two Sugar Bowls, and more than 2,000 newsreels.

A winner of numerous industry, listener and viewer awards, Allen is a member of National Baseball Hall of Fame (as the first Ford C. Frick winner in 1978), National (USA) Sportswriters and Broadcasters Hall of Fame (1972), the American Sportscasters Association Hall of Fame (1985), the Radio Hall of Fame (1988), the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, the University of Alabama Communication Hall of Fame (1995) and was enshrined to Monument Park at Yankee Stadium (July 25, 1999).

Decades ago, Allen sat next to a weakened Lou Gehrig in the dugout before a game. Gehrig soon would die from the disease that forced his emotional, early farewell from the game.

"Mel, sometimes your descriptions of the game are the only thing that keeps me going," Gehrig said.

Allen went into the tunnel and cried like a baby.

How about that?

1983 GOLDEN SPIKES AWARD/BASEBALL AMERICA PLAYER OF THE YEAR - DAVID MAGADAN

Never before or since has an Alabama baseball player had a season at the plate like David Magadan did in 1983.

The Alabama junior shattered school and Southeastern Conference records that still stand today in becoming the 1983 Golden Spikes Award winner, presented annually by USA Baseball.

Magadan, who concluded the 1983 season with six school career records (at-bats, runs, hits, RBI, doubles, total bases and batting average), was a major contributor in Alabama's national runner-up spot to Texas at the College World Series. He paced the Crimson Tide to winning the NCAA South Regional and Southeastern Conference titles en route to a 46-11 record, one the most successful campaigns in school history.

After batting an incredible nation-leading .525 (114-217) as a junior, Magadan was voted the 1983 College "Player of the Year" by Baseball America and he also led the team in hits (114), doubles (31), total bases (180) and slugging percentage (.829) during his record-setting campaign.

Magadan was a consensus first team All-America selection by the American Baseball Coaches Association, the Sporting News, Baseball America and the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association during the 1983 season and was a three-time All-SEC selection at the Capstone.

Two years earlier, Magadan hit safely in his initial 27 games as a freshman in 1981 and as a junior, went an incredible 10-for-11 (.909) at the 1983 SEC Tournament in Starkville, Miss., which included a five-hit game (2 doubles, 2 HRs) against Florida, en route to being named the Most Valuable Player of the tournament. He also set the CWS record by hitting safely in his first eight trips to the plate and wound up batting .550 (11-20) at Omaha in five games.

After his freshman season at Alabama, Magadan led his American Legion team to the 1981 American Legion World Series title and was named the "Sports Club Amateur of the Year" when Tampa Post 248 won the national title. Magadan also is recognized in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum for his amateur accomplishments in 1981.

The Tampa native played in 162 games during his Alabama career and batted .439 (268-610) with 64 doubles, 14 home runs and 188 RBI. His .439 batting average still ranks among the leaders in Division I baseball and remains atop the SEC record books as the highest career average in league history.

Magadan still holds Alabama records for single-season batting average (.525, 1983), career batting average (.439, 1981-83), single-season hits (114, 1983), single season doubles (31, 1983) and single-season RBI (95, 1983). He also set the Alabama standards for highest batting average for a freshman (.399, 1981) and junior (.525, 1983) and most RBI (95, 1983) by a junior and shares the single-game record with five hits, a feat he accomplished an Alabama record three times against Alabama Christian (April 16, 1983), Florida (May 13, 1983) and Arizona State (June 4, 1983).

First drafted by the Boston Red Sox out of Tampa's Jesuit High School, Magadan then was one of six Alabama players selected in the 1983 MLB Draft. He signed with the New York Mets and was assigned to the Columbia, S.C. Mets in the class A South Atlantic League in his first pro ball assignment. In that first summer, Magadan batted .336 with three home runs and 32 RBI.

Magadan made his Major League debut for the Mets against the Chicago Cubs on Sept. 17, 1986, as the starting first baseman at Shea Stadium. In the game, he went 3-for-4 with two RBI, including the game-winner in the eighth inning that clinched the National League Eastern Division title for the eventual world champions.

In 1990, Magadan finished third in the National League batting race with a career-best .328 (148-451) average. He played 16 years in the Major Leagues before retiring from the game after the 2001 season. In those 16 seasons, Magadan hit .288 (1,197-4,159) with 42 home runs and 495 RBI in 1,582 career big-league games.

After his playing days, Magadan was named the roving minor league hitting instructor by the San Diego Padres, before being promoted as the big-league hitting coach prior to the 2003 season. After four seasons with the Padres, Magadan was named the hitting coach for the Boston Red Sox in 2007. After working six years in Boston, Magadan began working as the hitting instructor for the Texas Rangers in 2013, a title which he held through the 2015 Major League Baseball season. In the fall of 2015, Magadan became the hitting coach for the Arizona Diamondbacks, a title which he still holds today.

In June of 2010, Magadan joined former Alabama All-American and head coach Joe Sewell as the only Tide players to be inducted into the College Baseball Hall of Fame. In 2014, he was inducted into the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Alabama Crimson Tide representatives Eli Gold and Major Ogilvie. In the fall of 2015, the .525 Club at the newly renovated Sewell-Thomas Stadium was named in honor of his average during Magadan's historic 1983 season. Magadan was in attendance for the Crimson Tide's first ever alumni event, in which the room was officially opened.

1999 DICK HOWSER TROPHY FINALIST - ANDY PHILLIPS

Andy Phillips is one of the most decorated players in the history of Alabama baseball.

A member of coach Jim Wells' first signing class, Philips rewrote the Alabama record books and in the process took the Crimson Tide baseball program to new heights with three trips to the College World Series in his four-year career.

That impact was not limited to the Crimson Tide baseball family, as his talents were recognized nationally by writers, broadcasters and professional scouts.

A consensus All-America selection as a senior, Phillips was named the 1999 National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association District III Player of the Year and finished runner up to Baylor's Jason Jennings for the 1999 Dick Howser Trophy, presented by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association to the best player in college baseball.

Florida State's Marshall McDougal, Cal State Fullerton's Spencer Oborn and Rice's Mario Ramos also were finalists for the Howser Trophy, named for the former Florida State infielder and Kansas City Royals manager.

Phillips also was named first team All-American by the NCBWA as well as being a member of the 1999 NCBWA Super All-American squad.

In addition to the NCBWA honors, Phillips was named first team All-American by College Baseball Insider and was a third team All-America selection by Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball and the American Baseball Coaches Association.

The Demopolis, Ala., native wrapped up his Alabama career as the school record-holder in eight career statistical categories, including most games played (244), games started (224), at-bats (905), runs scored (222), total hits (322), home runs (61), RBI (224) and total bases (590). He also ranked second in career doubles (63) and triples (11), and was third in assists (537) and 10th in walks (86) when his career was complete.

As a senior in 1999, Phillips set the standard of excellence for Crimson Tide baseball. He played in 64 games and batted .398 (103-259) with 22 home runs and 66 RBI. He added 71 runs scored, 22 doubles, 30 walks and 16 stolen bases for an Alabama team that captured the SEC Tournament Championship and finished third at the College World Series.

Phillips also set Alabama single-season records for total bases (203) and collected the most home runs (22) and RBI (66) by a shortstop at Alabama.

The former Tide shortstop also set the SEC record with a 36-game hitting streak during his final season at Alabama, breaking the old standard of 33 games set by LSU second baseman Todd Walker (1993). During his record-setting hitting streak, Phillips batted .407 (66-162) with 17 home runs and 45 RBI.

In 1998, Phillips was named the Sporting News National Player of the Week (April 1, 1998), after hitting .500 (8-16) with six runs scored, three home runs and 11 RBI in wins over Southern Miss and Mississippi State.

Phillips was just as successful off the field, earning his degree from Alabama in 1999, while being an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and is an accomplished singer. Twice during his career, Phillips sang the National Anthem prior to a Crimson Tide home game at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. A three-time All-SEC selection, Phillips also was named to the 1999 SEC Good Works Team for his many hours of community service.

Following an 11-year professional baseball career, which included five seasons in Major League Baseball, Phillips returned to Alabama as the hitting and infield coach, beginning with the 2011 season and ending in 2016 after head coach Mitch Gaspard's retirement. His MLB debut came in 2004 for the New York Yankees, and he homered on the first pitch he saw as a Major League player. Phillips played for the Yankees from 2004-07, before playing his final season in the majors with the Cincinnati Reds in 2008. Prior to returning to Alabama, he played two seasons in the Nippon Professional League in Japan.

2002 JOHNNY BENCH AWARD - JEREMY BROWN

The most decorated catcher in University of Alabama baseball history, Jeremy Brown was named the winner of the 2002 Johnny Bench Award, presented annually by the Greater Wichita Area Sports Commission to the nation's best catcher.

"The Greater Wichita Sports Commission would like to congratulate all of the award finalists and especially Jeremy Brown, the 2002 Johnny Bench National Collegiate Catcher of the Year," Bob Hanson, President and CEO of the Greater Wichita Sports Commission, said. "Jeremy represents The University of Alabama in a remarkable manner."

Brown edged out Southern California junior Alberto Concepcion and University of Houston junior Chris Snyder to win the 2002 award.

Brown said upon receiving the 2002 Johnny Bench Award, "I'd like to thank my family and my coaches for all of their support over the past four years. It's truly an honor to receive this award from the best catcher of all time, Mr. Johnny Bench."

It is the highest honor awarded to an Alabama baseball player since David Magadan earned the 1983 Golden Spikes Award, presented annually to the best player in college baseball. The Golden Spikes award is the baseball equivalent to college football's Heisman Trophy award.

Bench, a native of Oklahoma City, and Major League Baseball Hall of Famer, was on hand to present the award to Brown. Bench was the starting catcher for the Cincinnati Reds' back-to-back World Series championship teams in 1975 and 1976.

Former Los Angeles Dodger first baseman Steve Garvey delivered the keynote address to more than 350 people in attendance at the Grand Eagle Ballroom at the downtown Wichita Hyatt Regency hotel. The banquet recognizes the achievements and dedication of local youth, high school, college and professional coaches in the Wichita area. Alabama head coach Jim Wells was also in attendance to see his All-American catcher receive the award.

A two-year starter behind the plate for Alabama, Brown was a runner-up to Baylor's Kelly Shoppach in the 2001 Johnny Bench Award voting. Brown is one of five Southeastern Conference catchers to win the Johnny Bench Award, joining LSU's Brad Cresse, who won the inaugural award in 2000, Mississippi State's Ed Easley in 2007, Florida's Mike Zunino in 2012 and Ole Miss' Stuart Turner the following year in 2013.

A native of Hueytown, Ala., Brown appeared in 66 games for Alabama as a senior and hit a .320 average (70-219) with 11 home runs and 64 RBI. He also set the Alabama single-season record with 69 walks, surpassing the previous total of 66 walks held by Bret Elbin in 1983.

Brown made only one error for Alabama in his final 119 games at the Capstone. He set the Tide single-season record with a 1.000 fielding percentage in 2001 and made only one error in 2002.

Brown was second in the SEC with seven pickoffs and ranked among the league leaders by throwing out 43 percent of his attempted base stealers.

A first-round pick of the Oakland Athletics, Brown concluded his career at Alabama as the all-time leader for games played (251), games started (251), runs scored (244), walks (207) and putouts (1,660). He still remains as the only player in SEC history to collect 300 career hits (307) and 200 career walks (207).

Named a 2002 second team All-American by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association, Brown also was a first team All-SEC pick for the second consecutive year. He was also chosen as the District III Player of the Year by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association and was a finalist for the 2002 Dick Howser Trophy, presented by the St. Petersburg Area Chamber of Commerce and Verizon.

2003 DISTRICT III PLAYER OF THE YEAR - BEAU HEAROD

Beau Hearod went where few University of Alabama players had gone before. The slugger from Jennings, La., had a phenomenal 2003 season and in the process led the Southeastern Conference in both home runs (20) and RBI (82) in his final campaign with the Crimson Tide.

A first team All-SEC selection, Hearod became the first Alabama player to lead the SEC in home runs since Doug Duke smacked a league-leading 27 four-baggers as a junior in 1986. Hearod became the fourth player in school history to lead the league in home runs, joining Stan Moss (7, 1968), Butch Hobson (13, 1973) and Duke (1986) as the league's home run champ. Hearod also was the first Crimson Tide slugger to lead the league in RBI since Duke's league-best 82 in 1986.

After putting up those staggering numbers during the rugged 62-game season, which included 34 games against SEC teams, Hearod was tabbed as the District III Player of the Year by the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association, marking the second consecutive year and the third time since the inception of the award in 1999 that an Alabama player was bestowed the top in District III.

Former Alabama catcher Jeremy Brown, a first-round selection by the Oakland Athletics in 2002 MLB Draft and the 2002 Johnny Bench award winner, was named the 2002 District III Player of the Year following an outstanding senior season. Andy Phillips, the school's all-time home runs leader, won the inaugural District III Player of the Year award in 1999 and was one of the three finalists for the prestigious Dick Howser Trophy, presented to the NCBWA Player of the Year.

Other 2003 district winners included Boston College pitcher Chris Lambert (District I), St. John's outfielder Mike Rozema (District II), South Carolina lefty David Marchbanks (District IV), Ohio State pitcher Scott Lewis (District V), Nebraska first baseman Matt Hooper (District VI), Tulane first baseman and left hand pitcher Michael Aubrey (District VII) Southern University shortstop Rickie Weeks (District VII), New Mexico first baseman Billy Belcher (District VIII) and Arizona State shortstop Dustin Pedroia (District IX).

From the ranks of these 10 District winners, Southern University's Rickie Weeks was named the winner of the 2003 Dick Howser Trophy.

As a senior, Hearod started all 62 games and batted .346 (80-231) with 20 home runs and 82 RBI. He was also named the Most Valuable Player of the 2003 SEC Tournament at the Hoover Met, leading the Crimson Tide to its second straight postseason title and sixth under coach Jim Wells.

Hearod ranked ninth nationally in home runs (20) and 17th nationally with 0.32 home runs per game. He was sixth in total RBI and ninth with 1.32 RBI per game. He also led the SEC and ranked 27th nationally with a whopping .719 slugging percentage.

In his three-year career with Alabama, Hearod played in 177 games and batted .327 (210-643) with 40 home runs and 191 RBI. He also totaled 141 runs scored, 43 doubles, five triples, 61 walks and a .595 career slugging mark.

He wrapped up his Alabama career with five grand slams, one shy of the school, SEC and NCAA record set by the Tide's Mike Pitisci in 1984.

Wade LeBlanc had a freshman season like no other in the 100-plus year history of The University of Alabama baseball program.

The talented freshman left-hander racked up just about every postseason award available as he became the first rookie in Crimson Tide baseball history to earn National and SEC Freshman of the Year honors.

LeBlanc was tabbed the 2004 National Freshman of the Year by Collegiate Baseball Newspaper after being named the 2004 SEC Freshman of the Year at the conclusion of the regular season.

LeBlanc's turning point in the season was the back-to-back wins against No. 6 LSU and 10th-ranked Florida in early May. He beat LSU, 8-2, on May 1 in Baton Rouge and then shut out the high-powered Gators in Tuscaloosa on May 7, allowing only four hits and striking out nine batters.

"I guess the LSU and Florida games back-to-back really told me what kind of season I was having," LeBlanc said. "This whole season was crazy. I never thought I would have a year like this and be named National and SEC Freshman of the Year. This is a great honor."

LeBlanc finished his outstanding freshman season by setting Alabama freshman records for innings pitched (112.2), strikeouts (98) and complete games (8) while tying the Alabama freshman record with eight wins.

In 16 games, including 15 starts, LeBlanc posted an 8-4 record and 2.08 ERA. He worked 112.2 innings and allowed 87 hits, 37 runs and 26 earned runs, with 26 walks and 98 strikeouts. LeBlanc also threw eight complete games and pitched three shutouts in 2004.

In addition to his freshman records, LeBlanc also ranks among the school's top 10 single-season leaders in several categories. His eight complete games tied Gene Lary (1955) for second place on the school's single-season list. The three shutouts matched Mike Innes (1968) and Drew Blocker (1974) for third-place on the single-season shutout charts. LeBlanc's 112.2 innings pitched tied Dean Hayes (1983) for seventh place on the single-season innings, while the 98 strikeouts tied Jarrod Kingrey (1998) and Steve Shoemaker (1994) for 10th place in Alabama history.

LeBlanc was tabbed a third team All-American by both the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association (NCBWA) and Baseball America. He was the only freshman named to the 2004 Baseball America All-America team. LeBlanc also was named to the 2004 SEC All-Freshman team and was a second team All-SEC selection as voted on by the league's 12 head coaches.

SEBaseball.com tabbed him as the 2004 SEC Freshman of the Year as well as a first team All-SEC selection. He also was selected to the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) All-South Region team.

LeBlanc was drafted by the San Diego Padres in the second round of the 2006 MLB Amateur Draft. He made his Major League debut on Sept. 8, 2008 for the Padres. Through the 2011 season, LeBlanc had appeared in 54 games, 52 as a starter, with a 17-22 overall record in four years with the Padres.

He spent the 2012 season in the Miami Marlins organization. After starting the year in Triple-A, LeBlanc made 25 appearances with nine Major League starts. He was 2-5 with a 3.67 ERA in his first season with the Marlins. In 2013, LeBlanc started the season in the big leagues where he appeared in 13 games with seven starts for the Marlins. He was then picked up on waivers by Houston, where he made four relief appearances for the Astros.

In the 2014 offseason, LeBlanc signed a minor league contract with the Los Angeles Angels on Anaheim. He began the season in Triple-A Salt Lake, and eventually got the call-up to the Angels on May 25. He was designated for assignment by Los Angeles and picked up by the New York Yankees but was eventually designated for assignment once again. He returned to the Angles in the midst of a playoff race and spent the finality of the 2014 season in Los Angeles.

For his MLB career, LeBlanc was 21-33 with a 4.47 ERA (222 ER/446.2 IP), making 107 appearances with 71 starts while striking out 302 batters.

2009 SEC PLAYER OF THE YEAR - KENT MATTHES

Alabama right fielder Kent Matthes wrapped up a remarkable senior season by winning Southeastern Conference Player of the Year honors and being tabbed a consensus All-American. Matthes is the first Alabama player to win SEC Player of the Year honors since the league began presenting the award in 1993.

"Kent Matthes had a great year and deserves this honor," former Alabama head coach Jim Wells said. "It has been great to sit in the dugout and watch him do the things he has done this year. He has had a great year and put up some incredible numbers. You read sometimes about guys having years like this, but he usually isn't on your team. This year we have that player and it has been fun watching him on and off the field."

Matthes was also named first team All-American by every baseball publication, including the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA), Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball, the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA), Rivals and PING.

"It is a great honor to be recognized by the best college baseball league with all the talented players we have in the SEC," Matthes said. "It is an honor to be named SEC Player of the Year and to be able to accomplish the feat as a senior. This has been an incredible season and I am happy to be a part of this team.

"I was looking to take advantage of my senior year and make the most of it," said Matthes. "I worked hard in the offseason with Dax (Norris), got hot early, hit a lot of home runs and they kept coming. I tried to stay focused on winning each game and not the stats."

The senior was named the 2009 NCBWA District III Player of the Year, was a finalist for the Golden Spikes Award, a semifinalist for the Dick Howser Trophy and a member of the ABCA All-South Region team. The Orlando, Fla., native hit .358 with 28 home runs and 81 RBI for the Crimson Tide. He led the SEC in home runs, RBI, total bases (174) and slugging percentage (.883). He was also third in runs scored (65) and sixth in hitting.

Matthes set the Alabama single-season record with 28 home runs, which tied for the national home run lead with Middle Tennessee State's Bryce Brentz. Matthes is the fifth NCAA statistical national champion in school history. He broke the Alabama single-season home run record with his 28th home run against South Carolina on May 20 at the SEC Tournament. He slugged his 27th home run of the season in the Tide's regular-season finale at Auburn on May 16 to tie Doug Duke's record set in 1986.

The 2009 home run barrage from Matthes included four multi-home run games and one walkoff home run while 16 of his 28 home runs tied the game or gave Alabama the lead (10 go-ahead home runs). He also had nine game-winning RBI in 2009.

Matthes set the Alabama record with a home run in six straight games and twice was named National and SEC Player of the Week. He hit for the cycle on Feb. 24 against Nicholls State and followed with a walkoff 10th inning home run the next day.

Drafted by the Colorado Rockies in the fourth round of the 2009 MLB Amateur Draft, Matthes was named the 2011 California League's Most Valuable Player for the Class A Modesto Nuts after an outstanding season at the plate. He finished the 2011 season with a .334 average, 23 home runs, 39 doubles and 95 RBI.

Matthes spent the 2012 season in Double-A, playing for the Tulsa Drillers where he hit .214 with 17 home runs, 18 doubles and 40 RBI. In 2013, Matthes opened the year in Tulsa, before being called up to Triple-A Colorado Springs for the final 47 games of the season. With the Triple-A Sky Sox, Matthes hit .297 with 11 home runs and 31 RBI.

After being claimed off waivers by the Oakland A's, the former Tide standout spent 2014 split between Double-A Midland and Triple-A Sacramento where he hit .232 (92-396) with 26 doubles, 16 home runs and 72 RBI while adding 57 runs.

Jim Wells and Skip Bertman combined to win 12 SEC Tournament championships and lead all SEC coaches with six tournament titles each.

SEC TOURNAMENT HISTORY:

Alabama has compiled a 57-54 (.514) all-time SEC Tournament record, dating back to its first appearance in the 1950 SEC Playoffs, a best-of-five series win over Kentucky, the SEC Eastern Division champion. The Crimson Tide is 49-43 (.533) since the league moved to an SEC Tournament format in 1977.

In SEC Tournament games at the Hoover Met (formerly Regions Park), Alabama is 37-25 (.597) with four SEC postseason titles in 1996, 1999, 2002 and 2003.

The Crimson Tide is 7-1 in eight SEC Tournament championship games, winning the title against five different teams. Following a 4-3 loss to LSU in the 2010 SEC championship game, Alabama is 3-1 in the deciding game against the Tigers. Alabama defeated LSU to win the SEC Tournament championship in 1995, 1997 and 2002. The Tide also has championship game wins over Mississippi State (1993), Florida (1996), Arkansas (1999) and South Carolina (2002).

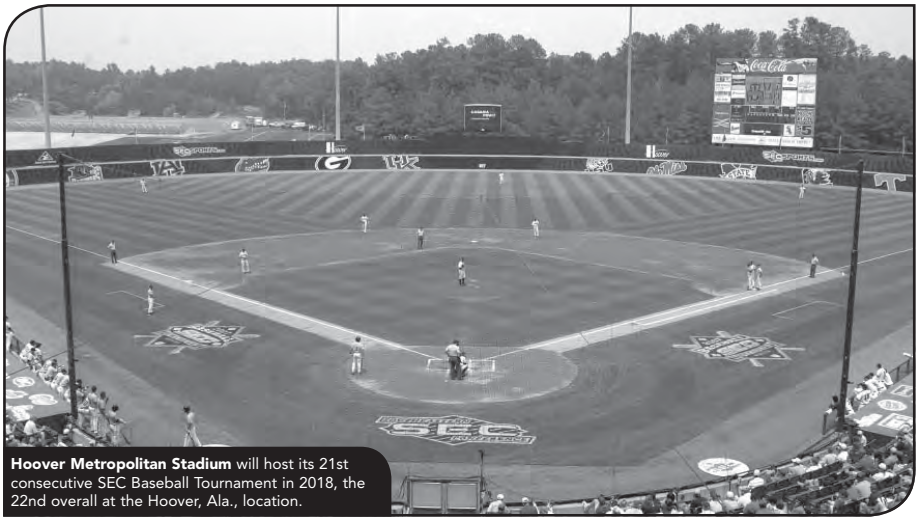
SEC BASEBALL TOURNAMENT

The Southeastern Conference Baseball Tournament will be held at Hoover Metropolitan Stadium from May 22-27, 2018. This is the 21st consecutive year the tournament has been played in Hoover and the 22nd time overall.

The 2018 SEC Baseball Tournament will host 12 teams for the third straight year, after increasing from 10 to 12 in 2013. Seeds 5-12 will meet in a single-elimination format on the opening day of the tournament, followed by traditional double-elimination play Wednesday-Friday, before returning to single-elimination play on Saturday and Sunday. A total of 17 games will be played over the six days.

The 12 teams will be seeded 1-12, with the two divisional champions and top four seeds guaranteed opening-round byes, with the possibility of earning another bye later in the bracket. The tournament field will include the top teams from the SEC's Eastern and Western divisions, plus 10 at-large bids, seeded 3-12 based on conference winning percentage.

The tournament began in 1977 with the first and second-place teams from the Eastern and Western divisions meeting at campus sites to determine the league's automatic bid into the NCAA Tournament. In 1986, the SEC abandoned divisional play and the top four teams in the league standings qualified for the postseason tournament at campus sites. The 1990 SEC Tournament was played at the Hoover Met, the first off-campus tournament in league history.



Hoover Metropolitan Stadium will host its 21st consecutive SEC Baseball Tournament in 2018, the 22nd overall at the Hoover, Ala., location.

The format remained the same until the league expanded to 12 teams in 1992, adding Arkansas and South Carolina. In 1992, the league went back to divisional play and invited the top four teams from each division to the SEC Tournament at the Superdome in New Orleans.

The SEC instituted another change in 1993, as the league had two separate divisional tournaments over the next three years. The overall SEC champion and NCAA automatic qualifier was the team with the best conference combined winning percentage from the regular season and postseason tournaments. Alabama won the SEC Western Division tournament in Starkville in 1995, the first of three straight tournament titles for the Tide.

The 1996 and 1997 tournaments were eight-team events in Hoover and Columbus, Ga., respectively but those events introduced one-game play-ins. Prior to the expansion to 10 teams in 2012, an eight-team double-elimination format was used for 14 years (1998-2011).

Alabama is second all-time with seven SEC Tournament titles, most recently in 2003. LSU leads the way with 12 SEC Tournament championships, including back-to-back titles in 2009 and 2010. Overall, nine of the 14 SEC teams have won at least one SEC Tournament crown since 1977.

After Rob Childress led Texas A&M to the tournament title in 2016, 20 different head coaches had won at least one SEC Tournament championship. Former Alabama head coach Jim Wells and former LSU coach Skip Bertman have the most all time with six championships, while former Mississippi State head coach Ron Polk won five tournament titles. Florida has the most coaches to win the SEC Tournament with four, including Jay Bergman (1981), Jack Rhine (1982), Joe Arnold (1984, 1988 and 1991) and Kevin O'Sullivan (2011, 2015).

Alabama has been involved in the two largest championship game crowds in tournament history. The Tide's 9-3 win over Arkansas in the 1999 SEC Championship game on May 23 drew 16,165 fans, the largest crowd in tournament history and second-largest crowd in Hoover Met annals. The Tide's 6-2 win over South Carolina on May 26, 2002, drew 13,367 fans, the second-largest for a title game in tournament lore.

Hoover Met seats 10,800 for baseball, but can accommodate more than 16,000 when the patio, banquet and side grassy areas are used. The stadium also houses 12 suites and state-of-the-art dressing and training rooms. Wireless internet access was added in 2004, concourse and signage renovation was done in 2005, and finally a second-level pressbox expansion, new stadium seating and an exterior facelift in 2007 completed a $4.5 million renovation project. A new video scoreboard was added in 2008.

The SEC will keep its conference baseball tournament in suburban Birmingham for the next two years and could stretch its stay to five.

FORMAT AND SEEDING

The 12-team tournament will consist of two six-team brackets. The two bracket winners will play in a single championship game on Sunday. Seeding for the SEC Tournament is based on each team's winning percentage during the SEC regular season. The division champions shall be automatically seeded No. 1 and No. 2, based on winning percentage in conference competition. The rest shall be seeded No. 3 through No. 12 based on conference winning percentage. Once a team is seeded, it shall maintain that same seeded position throughout the tournament.

TIE-BREAKERS

Two-Team Tie

When two teams are tied for a finish, the following procedure will be used (in order until the tie is broken):

1. Win-loss results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.
2. If they are divisional opponents:
   a. Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 15-game SEC division schedule).
   b. Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 6 team, if necessary).
3. If two teams are not divisional opponents:
   a. Win-loss record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 8 seed, if necessary).
4. Coin flip by the Commissioner.

Three-Team Tie (or more)

When three or more teams are tied for a finish, the following procedure will be used (in order until the tie is broken).

Note: If the three tied teams have three different records against each other, they shall be seeded in best-percentage order. Otherwise, once the three-team tie is broken, the two-team tie-breaker will be used.

1. If all three teams are common opponents: Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.
2. Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 8 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.
3. If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.

Play-by-Play/Color

All the exciting action of Alabama baseball can be heard throughout the 2018 season on the Crimson Tide Sports Network.

The baseball network is a service of Crimson Tide Sports Marketing, which is a property of Learfield Communications. An industry leader for more than four decades, Learfield has a deep presence in the college athletics landscape nationwide. It manages the multimedia and sponsorship rights for 125 collegiate institutions, conferences and arenas, and supports athletic departments at all competitive levels as title sponsor of the prestigious Learfield Directors' Cup. Learfield also provides its collegiate partners access to professional concessions and ticket sales; licensing and trademark consulting; digital and social platform expertise; and venue and technology systems through its affiliated companies. For more information, visit learfield.com. Jim Carabin serves as CTSM's general manager.

For the 20th consecutive season, CTSM will carry the Crimson Tide baseball games on a state-wide network. The games also are available on the internet and select Southeastern Conference games will be aired on XM Satellite Radio. The network's flagship stations are in Birmingham and Tuscaloosa. Birmingham affiliates include WJOX-FM (94.5) and WJOX-AM (690). The Tuscaloosa affiliate is WDGM-FM 102.9.

Alabama baseball is also the topic of conversation each Monday night from 6-7 p.m. on the popular weekly call-in show "Hey, Coach!" Stewart hosts the program and chats with head coach Brad Bohannon and Alabama players each Monday night throughout the season. The show airs live from Baumhower's Victory Grille in Tuscaloosa. Fans can join the program by calling toll free (877) 202.2262.

The Crimson Tide's unique 30-minute weekly sports magazine television program, "TIDETV This Week," shows highlights, interviews and previews on the Crimson Tide baseball team all season.

Chris Stewart and Lee Tracey will call the exciting action of Alabama baseball this season on the 30-plus station network.

A veteran play-by-play voice, Stewart enters his 19th season on the Tide baseball broadcasts. He is a five-time (2004, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2016) Alabama Sportscaster of the Year recipient by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association (NSSA).

Stewart is in his 30th year in broadcasting, with the 2017-18 men's basketball season being his 16th as the play-by-play announcer for the Crimson Tide Sports Network. In addition to his role as the voice of Crimson Tide basketball, Stewart also serves as the sideline reporter for CTSN's radio coverage of Crimson Tide football and as the television host of "The Nick Saban Show".

Prior to taking over the Alabama basketball play-by-play job, the Fairfield, Ala., native spent eight seasons as the radio announcer for Birmingham Southern College.

Stewart has done additional work for CSS, ESPN Regional, and Fox Sports South.

A 1992 graduate of the University of Montevallo, Stewart was honored with the school's 2009 Alumni Achievement Award. He is married to the former Christy Carmichael and has three children – Anne, Parker and Hudson.

Lee Tracey, a veteran sports broadcaster in Alabama, returns for his eighth season calling the action for the Alabama baseball team for CTSN.

Prior to the 2011 season, Tracey provided play-by-play for Alabama baseball two different times in the past - once in the late 1980s and again from 1992-94. He also was the radio voice of Alabama women's basketball from 1992-94.

Tracey was the producer on Alabama football broadcasts for the Crimson Tide Sports Network from 1987-90 and was the sports anchor/director for WCFT-TV in Tuscaloosa from 1994-96.

Currently, Tracey is the owner and president of TOPsports, a company he founded in 1996. TOPsports covers all Tuscaloosa area sports, including University of Alabama athletics and local high schools.
